PUSH MINE RESCUE WORK

DISASTROUS FIRE RAZES SHARON BUILDINGS

Alice Longworth Says

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—The death of Mr. Louis McHenry Howe removes a unique figure from present Democratic politics. His relation to the president is comparable to that of Colonel House to Wilson and Harry Daugherty to Harding. Perhaps some future historian will record how much his ideas were part of the Roosevelt campaign policies in 1932.

Probably no one but Mr. Roosevelt knows to what extent the Howe policies were superceded by those of the professors at the beginning of the administration. The high visibility of the Brain Trust relegated Mr. Howe to the background. He was not the sort of man to take any disagreement with his chief to the public, or supply the gossip writers with hints of what went on behind the scenes.

Owing to Mr. Howe's long illness his counsels have been discounted for some time. But there is no doubt that his death is a great loss to the president, whose career owes so much to Mr. Howe's single-hearted devotion and political sense.

ALICE LONGWORTH.

Three Large Buildings Destroyed—Aid Sent From Other Cities To Halt Fire

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., April 21.—A fire of undetermined origin swept through this city's principal business district today, and fanned by a high west wind, burned uncontrolled for more than three hours, causing damage estimated at $1,000,000.

Three large buildings were destroyed, including the Protected Home Circle Temple, headquarters of one of the nation's oldest fraternal insurance organizations. A dancing academy and six of the city's finest clothing stores were ruined before the fire-fighters from this city and 14 companies from other communities were able to subdue the flames.

Starts At 1 A. M.

Discovered at 1 a. m. the fire spread rapidly, burning fiercely until almost 5 a. m., when only smouldering ruins remained. Firemen continued pouring water into the wreckage.

Late last night, the four-story insurance building was the scene of an initiation and Fire Chief Roy Hall said he suspected a smoldering cigarette left by one of the group started the blaze.

Shortly after the first report of the fire, a terrific explosion, followed by four lesser blasts, shook the building. Chief Hall said he and several other firemen were tossed down a flight of stairs by the force of the explosion.

At its height, the fire threatened a general conflagration. Burning debris streamed down upon the residential district. Thirty guests were

Two Injured In Collision Today

Auto And Bus Come Together Near Portersville Early This Morning

PROSPECT MAN BADLY INJURED

Two men were seriously injured at 2:30 o'clock this morning, when an automobile containing Bruce Forrester, aged 24, and Merle Kennedy, aged 26, of Prospect, collided with a Fort Wayne and Kalamazoo bus, on Route 422 just east of Portersville, in Butler county.

The injured men were brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital here by J. E. Stein, of Fort Wayne, driver of the bus.

Forrester was found to have severe lacerations of the scalp and a possible fracture of the skull. Kennedy received cuts and abrasions of the face and knees, suffered amputation of part of the left index finger and had his left forearm broken.

The young men were enroute to their homes, and the bus was travelling west toward New Castle, when the collision occurred.

CLEVELAND, April 21.—A small group of Republican leaders assembled here today to iron out numerous details of their national convention in June—the most important item being selection of the orator who will keynote the G. O. P.'s objections to another four years of Democratic administration.

Senator Frederick Steiwer, of Oregon.

Arrest Is Made In New York Mystery—Confession Made

UPHOLSTERER IS HELD FOR CRIME

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 21.—John Fiorenza, an upholsterer, was arrested today for "the bathtub murder" of Mrs. Nancy Evans Titterton, fiction writer, and, according to the police made a full confession to the crime.

It was Fiorenza, who, with an associate, "found" the body several hours after the woman had been strangled in her Beekman place apartment and dumped into the bath tub.

Fiorenza is 24 years old, a beetle browed ex-convict. When he and his companion "discovered" the body at 4:15 o'clock on the afternoon of April 10, he professed to be horrified. He made fumbling attempts at "helping" the police.

The confession the authorities extracted from him, as detailed by police commissioner Lewis A. Valentine, showed the crime was premeditated—a lustful adventure that ended in panic and murder.

HARRISBURG, April 21.—Seemingly more concerned over the weather and the national party conventions than their own electoral prospects, candidates for major party nominations began a lackadaisical "last week" of campaigning today for next Tuesday's primary election.

Devoid of a state-wide contest save the bid of an anti-administration Democrat for his party's nomination for the auditor generalship, the "campaign" had its chief importance in local battles for legislative and congressional seats.

One week from today, Pennsylvania's electorate will nominate presidential, congressional, legislative and fiscal office candidates. They will elect ten short-term legislators by special voting and will

Mussolini Tells Crowd Of 100,000 In Rome Campaign To Proceed

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ROME, April 21.—Italy's military campaign in Ethiopia will not be permitted to lose any of its momentum, Premier Mussolini promised an enthusiastic crowd of 100,000 jammed into Venice Square on the 2689th anniversary of the legendary founding of Rome.

This was Il Duce's answer to the "supreme appeal" for immediate peace addressed to him by the League of Nations Council only yesterday.

"We celebrate together today the festival of labor and victory," Mussolini declared from the balcony of Venice palace, where his offices are located. He referred to the joint celebration of Italy's Labor Day and the Roman anniversary.

"After a difficult voyage, we are in sight of the harbor. We will reach it with our sails unfurled.

"We shall, however, carry with us as always the strength, justice, and civilization of Rome.

Westminster Students Give Real Color To Mock Convention

With all the color and noise, the excitement and hoopla of a regular convention, the mock Republican convention got under way in the gymnasium of Westminster College Monday evening. The mock convention is sponsored by the Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debate fraternity, and is being engaged in by the entire school student body.

About the only noticeable difference between the mock convention and a regular affair is size. The regular convention in Cleveland in June will be larger, but there will be no more enthusiasm, relatively, no more attention to detail and certainly no more fun than was the opening session Monday evening.

Flag Bedecked

For the convention the gymnasium had been converted into an auditorium. American flags hung from the ceiling and the balcony, bunting surrounded the speakers' platform, pictures of Republican presidents looked down on the scene, and high above the chairman's seat was a huge painting of an elephant, the symbol of the G. O. P.

Multiply the scene and you had Cleveland. It wasn't necessary to multiply the enthusiasm nor the interest of the delegates present. The floor of the gym was taken over as the arena of the convention with the visitors on bleacher seats at the side.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, Kenneth McCormick, acting as the chairman of the national Republican committee opened the convention, invited Dr. R. F. Galbreath to deliver the invocation after which the crowd sang the Star Spangled Banner. McCormack spoke briefly upon the convention idea and then asked for nominations for temporary chairman. The election of Graham Carter was by acclamation.

Said Chairman Carter as he accepted the gavel, "we are going to demonstrate by this convention that the interest of the college student is presently focused upon the problems of the day. We are going to

Missionaries Calmly Pursue Duties While Italiam Army Nears

While the guns from a vast, determined Italian army are almost within earshot, two Lawrence county missionaries, Rev. Duncan Henry and Rev. Clarence W. Duff, are calmly pursuing the many duties which have been laid before them in tremulous Addis Ababa, vortex of a bloody whirlpool of war.

Both men are veterans of that mission field. Their combined years of service adds to about seventeen or eighteen years. Their knowledge of the country and language has made them of invaluable worth to both the mission posts and Red Cross during this time of stress.

Letters Censored

Letters to their homes here have been censored by the Ethiopian government and contain very little reference to the war.

Yesterday Mrs. Duncan Henry, who resides at the Missionary Home in New Wilmington, received a letter which had been mailed March 20. This is about the usual length of time for a letter to make the trip from that African kingdom.

Rev. Henry wrote that the capi-

(International News Service)

MOOSE RIVER, N. S. April 21. — Rescue gangs burrowing feverishly to rescue Dr. D. E. Robertson and C. Alfred Scadding from their entombment in the Moose River gold mine are only 20 feet, but that distance is solid rock, from the trapped men, Nova Scotia Minister of Mines Michael Dwyer said today in a statement broadcast by the Canadian radio commission.

The broadcast was made shortly before noon.

"In view of the great public interest in the Moose River disaster," said Dwyer, "and of the variety of reports current, I feel called upon to make some statement of the present condition.

"The accident at Moose River gold mine was caused by the collapse of a portion of the mine roof over an area of approximately 150 by 75 feet. Certain subsidence amounted to about 20 feet, indicating that a large portion of broken strata found its way down the slope.

Closed Entrance

"This enormous amount of rock naturally effectively closed the only working entrance to the workings and thereby trapped three men who were unfortunately on an inspection visit at the time of the collapse.

Deadlock Over Road Work At Volant Village

Commissioners Confer With Council And Citizens On Proposed Improvement

ASK FOR FIGURES ON DAMAGE CLAIMED

County Commissioners Bolinger, Cotton and Hannon were at Volant Monday afternoon, where they conferred with the borough council and citizens relative to the improvement of the public highway through Volant.

They found that the property owners west of the railroad crossing, between the railroad and the eastern end of the improved Volant-New Wilmington road, were very desirous of having the street through Volant improved, but the property owners east of the railroad between the tracks and the Neshannock bridge were not so anxious.

There would be no damages to pay on the street west of the tracks, but there would be damages east of the tracks. The county commissioners tried to get an estimate of the damages from property owners, but were unable to do so. The property owners took the position that they would fix the damages after the street is improved.

The county commissioners refuse to go along on a proposition of that kind. They want to know approximately just how much the county will have to pay. The state engineers have prepared their plans on an assumption of a fifty foot street, and they have

WOMAN IN RED LOSES PLEA

Must Return To Rumania

Final Effort To Escape Deportation Ends In Failure

CHARGES PROMISES WAS MADE TO HER

ANNA SAGE

(Copyright, 1936, By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 21—Mrs. Anna Sage, the "woman in red," who reputedly lured John Dillinger, the notorious gangster to his fatal rendezvous with federal agents, today lost a final, desperate move to escape deportation to Rumania.

Through her attorneys, Mrs. Sage appealed to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins for a temporary stay of the deportation order. Labor department officials disclosed the appeal was not placed before the secretary since this matter properly comes under the jurisdiction of the immigration bureau.

Plea Denied

Immigration Commissioner Daniel W. MacCormack said he had received the plea and that it had been denied.

Mrs. Sage, who accused the department of justice of "double-crossing" her in failing to intercede in her fight against deportation, based her final plea to Miss Perkins on the possibility that she might be exempted from punishment under legislation now pending in congress.

Her appeal referred to a bill by Rep. Kerr (D) of North Carolina, would amend immigration regulations and give the labor department discretionary power to allow deportable aliens to remain in the United States in certain cases.

"I have instructed our Chicago office to inform Mrs. Sage's attorneys that she would not find any relief even under the pending legislation" MacCormack asserted.

This action ended all her possible avenues to escape from the deportation order. The U. S. Circuit court already has issued a mandate for her removal as an undesirable alien which resulted from her conviction in Gary, Ind., on charges of operating a disorderly house.

night, however, expressed a qualified preference in the main for either Senator Steiwer or Dr. Frank.

Discussing with considerable caution the business of selecting a Republican keynoter, early arrivals largely seemed agreed that the temporary chairman who will call the Republicans to order on June 23 should be a man who was not actively identified with the presidential candidacies of any G. O. P. hopefuls.

It was for this reason that Senator Steiwer's name was mentioned most frequently in hotel rooms—although Dr. Frank, head of Wisconsin University, was pointed out as a possibility almost in the same breath.

Ralph E. Williams, of Oregon, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, and acting chairman in charge of the committee on arrangements pending the arrival of National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher, was said to favor Steiwer, with Frank as a second choice.

The aged man was about to carry out his threat "to kill them all", police said, when he was disarmed by his grandson, George W. Fry, 22, and Ralph Sassaman, a visitor in the house.

Detectives expressed the belief that the man's mind may have been unbalanced by a series of financial misfortunes that began with the loss of his job and a $12,000 home in nearby Laureldale. Fry told them, police said, that he thought he was a burden on his son, William, husband of the slain woman, and was about to be forced out of the home to make room for his granddaughter and her husband.

choose delegates-at-large and district representatives for their respective national conventions in June.

Little Interest

In short, the importance of primary day, April 28, appeared to many to be overshadowed by the proximity of the May 4 special session of the legislature.

Edward B. Zimmerman, Independent Democratic candidate for the auditor general nomination, alone represented in fighting garb among those seeking either statewide office. His opponent, Senator Warren R. Roberts, and Deputy General F. Clair Ross, Democratic organization choice for the state treasurer's post, confined themselves to casual speaking engagements while Zimmerman thundered.

Unopposed on the Republican ballot will be E. Arthur Sweeny, Greensburg publisher, for the auditor generalship, and Frank L. Pinola, Wilkes-Barre attorney, for state treasurer.

Borah Lone Candidate

Much in the Zimmerman manner, Col. Henry Breckinridge, anti-administrationist, opposes President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the Democratic preferential voting. Senator William E. Borah, Idaho Republican, is the lone GOP candidate for presidency in Pennsylvania's primary.

Close fights were looked for in the congressional balloting of many districts, of Pennsylvania's 34 congressmen.

Legislative contests, in most instances, promised the most interesting primary subject matter. The 25 odd-numbered senatorial districts, half the upper house, will nominate next Tuesday and next November 3 elect their state senators. Each of the 208 seats in the house of representatives will be voted upon this year.

Democrats seeking to win control of the senate had but three of the 25 places now at issue during the last session. Only six of the 22 Republican senators have opposition in the primary, while the Democratic candidates have party contests in 13 of the 25 districts.

ordered out of the fire-proof Standard Hotel and the $100,000 McDowell bank building was also imperiled. The adjacent Smith estate building and the Cohen Brothers building were destroyed.

P. H. C. Building Chief Loss

A fireman was injured when he fell two stories from a roof, breaking his arm but escaping serious hurts. Fourth other firemen flirted with death when a falling wall narrowly missed landing on them.

Valued at $650,000 the insurance building, heart of a $7,000,000 insurance system, was the chief loss. It was to have been the headquarters of a 50th anniversary celebration in August. The 35 year old edifice housed valuable records, it was said.

In the excitement, vandals carrying fire extinguishers entered the Standard Hotel and looted many of the rooms, police reported. Loss was not immediately estimated.

Thousands of spectators lined the streets to watch the host of smoke-eaters battle the flames. Several merchandise shops were badly damaged by smoke and water.

The fireman who was injured is E. F. Sankey. He is in the Buhl hospital.

Firemen who came to the aid of the Sharon companies battling the blaze were from Sharpsville, Farrell and Youngstown.

At an early hour this morning estimates of losses were given here as follows:

Protected Home Circle	$650,000
Smith Estate building	50,000
Cohen Brothers' building	75,000
Printz Company	40,000
Speizer Shop	20,000
Smith Shoe Store	40,000
Arthur-Lewis stores	50,000
Mehl Clothing store	15,000
Nobil Shoe Store	10,000
Seaburn Dancing Academy	5,000
Other losses	10,000

show you older people how a convention should be run and that we can handle the problems of tomorrow better than you handled the problems of yesterday."

Reed Keynoter

Carter then asked for nominations for the keynote speaker and State Senator George L. Reed, of Harrisburg, was elected by acclamation and escorted to the platform by a committee, while the band whooped it up and the convention delegates stood and cheered.

Reed's address was something that would sound good at the opening of the Cleveland convention or in any Republican meeting in the country. It was devastating in its criticism of President Roosevelt, delightful in its sarcasm, and was such a speech as should be copied by the national committee.

"Every thinking American must realize that we are in the most critical period of American history," said Senator Reed. "We have had three years of experimentation in government and this administration has dismally failed. The question today is shall we continue experimentation or shall we adopt measures which we know in times past have brought us prosperity.

More On Dole

"As the result of New Deal administration there are more people on the dole than ever before. Fifty million Americans today are dependent upon some government agency for their livelihood. In crooning his swan song the other evening the president said he was beset by three kinds of counsellors: One group says do nothing, another do everything, and a third, do something. I do not know who his counsellors are, but certainly the first and second are not Republicans."

Reed then pointed out that the depressions of 1837, 1857, 1873 and 1893 were followed by waves of prosperity. In discussing the election of 1940 when Harrison and Tyler were elected, Reed said, "they were elected by hysteria just like the election of 1932, Harrison died a month after taking office and Tyler proved to be the worst president in the history of the country up to Franklin D. Roosevelt." Reed then outlined a number of steps that should be taken for recovery.

Committee Reports

The roll call of state was held and the names of the state nominees for placings on the committees on permanent organization, resolutions and rules presented. A fifteen minute recess was held and the committee on rules reported, followed by the committee on permanent organization. In the latter report both majority and minority submitted reports, each of them nominating a man for permanent chairman. The majority report urged the election of James McEleory Smith; the minority report urged the election of Graham Carter; and then a nomination was made from the floor putting the name of John Gerstner in nomination.

Immediately a parliamentary tangle resulted as to whether the candidates should be voted upon all at the same time or whether the third nomination was an amendment to the minority report which in turn was an amendment to the majority report.

After considerable unravelling of the snarl, the election went forward and Graham Carter, who was also temporary chairman, was elected with a clear majority. The convention then adjourned.

Tuesday evening the convention will resume with the report of the committee on resolutions, followed by debate. Wednesday afternoon the debate continues and on Wednesday night the nomination of candidates for the presidency will take place.

Just now New Wilmington is a beehive of political activity. One might easily imagine the convention was the genuine article from the interest displayed and the idea has become one of the most interesting collegiate activities in years.

MISSIONARIES CALMLY PURSUE DUTIES WHILE ITALIAN ARMY NEARS

tal city was "very quiet" and that there was "nothing to be alarmed about." He spoke enthusiastically of the fact that so many of the soldiers have bought Bibles and that the British and foreign Bible societies report that the sales in Ethiopia have broken all records. Rev. Henry is an evangelistic missionary and news of the spread of the Christian religion takes all precedence over mention of the war in his letters home.

Prof. Robert Duff, music supervisor at Union Township high school, told The News today that the last letter from his brother, Rev. Clarence W. Duff, was received last week. The missionary's only reference to the war was to the effect that "a little bird flew over the other day and started everyone to dig in." It is obvious that he referred to an Italian airplane that swooped over Addis Ababa. The phraseology was one way of getting around the censor's blue pencil.

Rev. Duff is a native Lawrence county man, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Duff, Mt. Jackson-State Line road. He and his young wife are at the Red Cross headquarters, it is understood, and Rev. Henry is stationed about "ten minutes ride" from them.

Correct This Sentence: "I will always feel inferior to Dad," said the youth, "while I depend on him for my spending money."

At last the failure can feel superior. He is the only one who isn't regarded as an enemy of man.

Vermont Senator Defends Ritter

WASHINGTON, April 21—Declaring former Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter, of Miami, Fla., was not convicted of any impeachable offense, Senator Austin (R) of Vermont, today filed a brief with the senate declaring it had unlawfully removed the jurist from his office.

Austin argued that the senate, having acquitted Judge Ritter on six specific charges alleging impeachable offenses, had no power to convict him on the 7th article, which lumped all six charges. He declared the six acquittals proved that two-thirds of the senators voting did not believe him guilty of any impeachable offense.

TWELVE BILLION DOLLARS!

WHAT is the largest item in the American budget?

Is it food, rent, clothing or light and power? If you guess any of these, you're entirely wrong.

The largest item is taxes!

Our annual tax load—Federal, state and local—is now in the neighborhood of $12,000,000,000. By contrast, the annual food bill is $11,500,000,000—the annual rent bill, $10,000,000,000—the annual clothing bill, $6,000,000,000—the annual light and power bill, $2,000,000,000.

Government, in other words, taxes directly and indirectly, more of our income than is taken by the grocer and butcher—more than is taken by the landlord—twice as much as we pay the clothing store—and six times as much as we pay the electric and gas company!

But, you say, "I'm a man of average means. I pay little of this tax load—big business carries the principal burden."

If you think that, reflect on these figures: If the entire net income of all the corporations in this country in 1933—last year for which official figures are available—had been confiscated for tax purposes, it would have paid just about one-quarter of the total tax bill, leaving three-quarters to be made up from other sources!

The facts speak for themselves. Taxation is the greatest problem the people face—and it is constantly becoming graver.

CLARENCE DARROW'S SOMBRE PHILOSOPHY

Clarence Darrow's seventy-ninth birthday last Saturday was not without an element of drama. The famous criminal lawyer marked his natal day with a declaration that the law is a "horrible business," that it partakes of "black magic" and that there is no such thing as justice, in or out of court.

Mr. Darrow's sombre philosophyzing was climaxed by the statement that "religion is the belief in future life and in God. I don't believe in either." When a man of Mr. Darrow's intellectual and professional attainments approaches the end of life with no more hopeful or helpful message than this, he is to be sincerely pitied. He is a figure of stark tragedy.

MULTI-COLORED MOSQUITOES

War on mosquitoes, which has been rather negligently conducted in this country, is to enter a new phase. Borrowing a leaf from the successful campaign nearly a quarter of a century ago in Panama, the United States Public Health Service proposes to study the migrations of the pests. The plan is to spray them with aniline dyes at their breeding places, to let them fly about at will for a time, and then recapture and identify them by the various colors.

It might be argued that a simpler way would be to spray them with poison at the outset. But it is scientifically important to discover where they come from and how far they travel. After this, we are told, .. will be comparatively easy to deal with them at the source. It is known that, while some places are infested by them, others nearby are practically exempt. Local treatment, such as eliminating the marshes and stagnant pools where they are known to breed, has not always been successful, largely because it is not efficiently carried out.

If the multi-colored mosquitoes can be made to betray the haunts of their kind, the Health Service may be able to conduct a successful war in this country as well as at Panama. It is certainly not creditable that the insects which carry disease, as well as annoy by their stings, should have had a free range so long. A summer without mosquitoes would be, like a celebrated pen, "a boon and a blessing to men."

SCATTERING FACTORIES

One of the effects of industrial strikes in recent years has been a tendency to decentralization of big manufacturing concerns.

Henry Ford has both advocated and practised it. He now has branch manufacturing and assembly plants in cities and towns in various places around the country and in foreign lands.

General Motors has turned definitely toward decentralization of its own great industrial plants. A. P. Sloan, its president, says:

"We firmly believe that it is better for us, and it is better for the country if industry will decentralize so far as is practically possible, and up to the point where it does not increase the cost of goods and service."

Last year its plant expansion was spread into six or more cities in several states.

There was some evidence of this trend even before the current depression. Desire for lower manufacturing costs, especially taxes, prompted it in some cases. If it is now to be hastened, on a bigger scale, there will be many necessary readjustments in the communities involved.

In the long run, the breaking up of industrial units ought to benefit everyone concerned. Workers should be able to secure better living conditions, with health, education and recreation for their families. Relief needs in the big cities ought to be greatly reduced, and a saner sort of life developed.

Relations between Russia and Japan are "strained." A case of poor relations.

It's getting so that receipt of a letter marked "Personal" makes a citizen fear he is being victimized by a congressional committee.

THE STORY of energetic Mussolini and the tottering League of Nations seems drawing to a close. The next step scheduled is the taking of Harrar; that would give Mussolini control of Ethiopia's only railroad, cutting off all supplies.

It all means merely a repetition of what England and other white countries have done many times, putting white man as rulers in place of black.

RATHER PATHETIC is Baldwin, prime minister of the British Empire "far flung" as you know, beseeching Hitler to let Europe enjoy peace.

It shows that everything is possible when a former housepainter and humble corporal in the big war is implored by the head of the greatest power to grant peace.

"He has it in his power," says Baldwin of Hitler. "God grant he may have the will."

You could not blame Hitler for putting out his chest a little farther after that.

HOW FAST does you heart beat? That is the doctor's first question, and he answers it himself, feeling your pulse.

If it beats too fast, there is fever, and something wrong; fever means nature working to get rid of poison and kill germs.

If it beats too slowly, it means weakness.

A woman's heart beats faster than a man's on the average, a child's heart faster than either. The human heartbeat varies, normally, between fifty and eight-five, with exceptions at either end.

The canary's heart beats one thousand times a minute. Cattle have a heartbeat between forty and fifty.

DR. BENEDICT, of Carnegie Laboratories, finds that the adult elephant's heart beats from 22 to 30 times a minute, less than half the human heart beat, and the elephant heartbeat is nine strokes faster when the animal is lying down.

Man's heart beats more rapidly while he stands—because then it must raise blood the full height of the body. Old poets, with tired hearts, should do their writing lying down—the blood flows horizontally with little heart-effort.

YOU ARE interested in your heart Life starts when it starts beating, ends with its last beat.

The most wonderful of all your mechanical possessions, it starts long before your birth, survives incredible hardship and the most important food that it carries through the blood to the hungry hundreds of billions of cells of your body is OXYGEN. So get plenty of fresh air and breathe deep from the bottom to the top of your lungs.

Twenty deep breaths will reduce the beat of a tired heart by ten strokes to the minute, easing the load. Try it. In your brain alone, Dr. Carrel tells you, are thirty thousand million separate cells and each requires fresh oxygen from the blood, at least once every second.

You are indeed, as the Bible says, "fearlessly and wonderfully made."

YOUNG-MAN-SOT-IN-HIS-WAYS

HAPPILY MARRIED young women are always advising happily not-married young men to get married before they get too set in their ways.

You know what "set in your ways" means. It means you like to have your coffee hot and your meals on time. . . . It means you don't like it to rain on the day a picnic is planned. . . . It means you insist on eight hours of sleep a night. . . . It means you can't take it any more, and if you go out to dinner in the middle of the week and eat too much or drink too much or smoke too much or even talk too much, you're a wreck for several days . . It means you're likely to be annoyed if you don't get your own way. . . It means you don't like what you do like, and you don't want to hear any more about it!

So that's what being "set in your ways" means, is it? That's what happens to a man in his middle age and makes him unfit for the trimming, compressing, making-over and sculptoring of marriage? . . . And the point is that if a man is allowed time to get set and hardened, even a sweet and determined young woman can't civilize him for marriage—and what's the use of trying?

I say it's nonsense.

I say if you can make over a man at any time it's as easy to make him over later as sooner. . . . I know a young man, and if he's ever going to be any harder to make over than he is now, I pity any ambitious young woman who marries him. . . . He wants his own way and he battles to get it. If he doesn't want to eat, he doesn't eat. If he doesn't want to feed himself, then he may be forced into doing it, but he doesn't really change his mind. . . . If he wants to get up, well, he wants to get up and no parents is going to kid him out of it. He wants a ball when he wants a ball, he wants to throw a book on the floor WHEN he wants to throw a book on the floor—and I'd say he can't EVER be more set in his ways than he is right now, at the age of 30 months. . . . Very nice to have around the house, and not for sale, but certainly "sot in his ways".

But 20 years from now—in the hands of some sweet young lady—well, that's another story.

A GOOD ONE

Since snake stories are seasonable, writes A. C. Wolfe, of Sultan, Wash., you might be interested in one told by my uncle, back in the days when stories of the hoopsnake were rife in Midwestern states. My Uncle Jarve Crockett told of his experience in returning from the mill at Napoleon to the farm. He was then a young man in the 80's) and had accompanied his father. A spirited span of colts were hitched to the wide-tire farm wagon. A cloud of dust approaching them down the road proved to be a hoopsnake. My uncle was so frightened, nearly as much as the colts He gave the lines to his father. By keeping tight lines, the snake, all gold and silver, with its tail in its mouth, struck the wagon tongue, stung it and was then crushed beneath the wagon wheels. It was twelve feet long, a monster of its species. The snake was thrown across a rail fence, so it could die with the setting sun, and exercise the witches so the Crockett family would never again be bothered with hopsnakes. Uncle and father then proceeded homeward. They had not traversed a half mile when they noticed that the wwagon tongue began to swell as a result of being stung by the tail of the snake. The swelling tongue of the wagon soon became so heavy the horses had to be unhitched and the tongue rolled to one side of the road. Uncle and his father cut a pole tongue from the near-by forest and proceeded homeward. Next day, when the farm chores were done, uncle and his brother Jim took a yoke of oxen hitched to a mudboat to bring home the old wagon tongue. It had swollen to sixteen feet in diameter and made eight cords of 16 inch cook stove wood, enough to supply the farm kitchen with wood an entire year.

The daughter of the Emperor Maximilian I of Germany, Margaret of Savoy, governess of the Netherlands from 1507 to 1530, had a long stiff beard. A Genevan girl, Mademoiselle Bois de Chene, it is recorded, had a strong, black beard and large whiskers when she was 18 years of age in 1852.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR Miss Markel: It is frequently necessary for me to go by train from my town to a nearby town necessitating a two-hour journey. Would it be good taste for me to strike up a conversation with one of the men on the train—there are usually no women present? This would help me to enjoy the trip which is very monotonous.—T.

Answer: Oh, dear, no! Do not talk with strange men on a train; or anywhere else, for that matter.

There are times, on a long and tiresome journey of several days, when a woman might permit herself to engage in an impersonal conversation with a man near whom she has been sitting. But she must take care that she does not become the victim of a "masher" who is ever on the qui vive to flirt with any woman whose glances might give him the slightest encouragement.

A lady will never put herself in a position where she might be "picked up" by strange men.

Take an interesting book along with you, and keep to yourself. It is much safer!

Today's Yesterdays, April 21, 323 B. C.—A date you can figure out by contemporary records and references to eclipses: Alexander of Macedon, called the Great, master of the known world, died of fever in Babylon, aged 32. A few days before, in Ecbatana, the Magi had warned him not to go to Babylon because death waited him there.

The body was carried 1,000 miles for burial in a coffin of glass at Alexandria. He was ever the inspiration of emperors, even Augustus Caesar, who had Alexander crowned King of Kings 293 years after the Macedonian youth's death, when the coffin was opened and the body found perfectly preserved.

April 21, 1142—Peter Abelard died, aged 63, the most celebrated theologian and philosopher of his century in Europe. He is remembered today only because of his classic affair with Heloise, a pupil 21 years younger than himself. Love letters that passed between them are more enduring than all his masterly philosophical and theological writings.

April 21, 1783—Reginald Heber was born in Malpas, Cheshire, England, destined to become a bishop and the author of the most popular hymns of the Church of England. He made "From Greenland's Icy Mountains" famous with his hymn, but he never saw them.

100 Years Ago Today—Sam Houston led an army of frontiersman with the skill of a Napoleon and defeated a larger Mexican force in the battle of San Jacinto, to win the independence of Texas. For weeks, in order to scatter Mexican forces, Houston had fallen back. Then, when he had achieved his purpose and reached a favorable position, he gave battle with his 800 men, killing 630 Mexicans, wounding 208 and taking 750 prisoners. Among the prisoners was Mexico's president, Santa Ana.

A GARDENER AND AN OWNER

"He does not know the garden well.
He merely walks about.
Seeks he the Canterbury bell,
I have to point it out.
He does not even know the vine
That climbs his window sills.
And so I call his garden mine
Although he pays the bills.

"Sometimes he brings his friends to see
The lovely things I've grown.
And then he sends a call to me
To make the blossoms known.
You see no time he's ever found
To spend with daffodils.
He's never knelt upon the ground.
He merely pays the bills.

"He doesn't know the columbine,
Petunias and the phlox;
His life is just an endless line
Of listed bonds and stocks.
The garden's here for all to see.
A useful place it fills.
But all its joys belong to me
Although he pays the bills.

"Sometimes I'm sorry for the man
Despite his golden touch;
Who lives to such a narrow plan
Of pleasure misses much.
For dull must seem his working hours,
While mine hold endless thrills.
I proudly show his friends my flowers
And let him pay the bills."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

NO DOUBT HE DID.

Public speakers are often criticized for the use of poor rhetoric and worse—bad grammar. The critic does not think of the frenzy to which the orator often reaches.

Henry Ward Beecher was no exception.

A member of his congregation came up to him after the great preacher had finished a sermon, and stood by the pulpit, yet in the fuming afterheat of high discourse. The parishoner said to the minister:

"Mr. Beecher, I enjoyed your sermon very much, but I noticed one grammatical error you made."

"One?" said the preacher. "I'll bet my hat I made twenty."

A GOOD COLLEGE JOKE

"You in the back of the room, what was the date of the signing of the Magna Carta?"

"I dunno."

"You don't, eh? Well, lets try something else. Who was Bonny Prince Charley?"

"I dunno."

"Well, then, can you tell me what the Tennis Court Oath was?"

"I dunno."

"You don't! I assigned this stuff last Friday. What were you doing last night.

"I was out drinking beer with some friends."

"You were! What audacity to stand there and tell me a thing like that! How do you ever expect to pass this course?"

"Wal, I don't, mister. You see, I just come in to fix the radiator."

Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Proverbs 27:1.

An Aberdonian had been visited on several occasions by the doctor. In due course he received the bill. On paying it he demurred over the amount.

WOULD PRESERVE BRIDGE

April 20, 1936.

The New Castle News,
New Castle, Penna.

Dear Editor:

I desire to be registered with several members of our family as being in favor of preserving in some way the Edenburg covered bridge. Covered bridges are very rare and I think future generations will be very grateful to us of today for our foresight. Many people care nothing for such things as old relics, parks and other historical, interesting and beautiful things. I have traveled all over this beautiful country of ours from Maine to California and some people semed peeved at me because I couldn't tell them how much of a salary or what occupation some person in a distant state followed. When I am traveling I always try to forget about money and to see things of historic value or of beauty.

When we leave this earth plane and go to the astral realm we will not be able to take any money with us or anything of a worldly or earthly nature. We will be able perhaps to take memories of our actions while here on earth and perhaps of the things we have seen. My experience of climbing Pike's Peak by way of the cogwheel railroad and seeing the Grand Canyon and the Petrified Forest of Arizona and the Painted Desert and the Big Trees of California are more valuable to me than all the money in the Washington mint.

I am 100% in favor of preserving the old covered bridge at Edenburg. I am going to the west coast to make my home but when I come back east on a visit I hope to be able to see the old bridge as it is today.

Sincerely Yours,
CLARENCE McCONNELL,
Route 1, New Wilmington, Pa.

For tub washing you'll say, "grand!" SOAKS clothes whiter—safely

IF YOU do not have a washing machine to help make your Mondays easier—then by all means you owe it to yourself to use Rinso. For Rinso's creamy, active suds soak out dirt—get clothes 4 or 5 shades whiter and brighter without scrubbing or boiling. Women are amazed to see even grimy cuffs and edges come clean with a few gentle rubs between the fingers.

Rinso gives thick, lasting suds—even in hardest water. And my! How those rich suds speed up dishwashing. Grease goes in a jiffy. Every bit of it! Dishes don't have a greasy film over them after a Rinso washing. And the dishwater never gets that "greasy feel" either. Geologists To Collect Fossils In Pennsylvania

Believe That Specimens Will Serve To Link The Past With Present

MUSEUM EXHIBITS WILL BE COMPLETE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 21.—Pennsylvania's geological past will be revealed in the state museum here for the first time through a new display of fossils, now under preparation by museum officials.

While exhibits of coal fossils have been on display in the museum for many years, up to the present there has been no grouping of plant or animal fossils. To correct this deficiency, officials have started the new display.

"We have three of these new fossil cases on exhibit now and we are hoping to have others ready within the near future," Mrs. Gertrude B. Fuller, assistant director of the museum told International News Service. "When I took over my duties here, the only fossils on display were coal fossils. There should be much of interest in the state's geological past that can be revealed through other fossil exhibits."

"Pennsylvania is a rich state geologically," she said, "and we hope to be able to disclose much of educational value in the geological history of past years through adding to our fossil collections at the museum."

Insufficient funds for the collection and purchase of fossils, it was learned, have held back expansion of this museum department and most of the displays now available have been acquired through personal contributions of individuals and museum employes or associates.

As a start, officials have prepared the three cases of fossils and mollusks for display in the museum.

For their educational value, they have been arranged by contrast. A leaf or fern, for example, is displayed in its modern form, while beside it is shown its fossil counterpart. A pre-historic piece of bone or tooth is exhibited, marked to shown it is a fossil, while next to it is shown a piece of bone or tooth in its natural, modern state.

The museum exhibits are all being re-arranged in this contrast form as a means of organizing them from an educational point of view. Indian artifacts are now in the process of re-arrangement by watersheds, or tribes, to show the habits and characteristics of the development of each particular group of state Indians, previously the Indian material in the museum was arranged and displayed without regard for the development of individual tribes.

Fossil expansion and display reorganization is being carried out under the direction of Mrs. Fuller with particular emphasis on the educational value of the museum and of its historically important contents.

Improvement in the slide displays distributed to schools has also been started, and about 1,500 such slides on various subjects have recently been added to the supply available.

An average of 20,000 slides are being distributed monthly to the public schools of the state.

Of course you know how "hot" music got its name. There is only one place that always reminds us of heat.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

MOTHERS ALSO NEED CARE

Looking forward to Child Health day, May 1, and to Mother's day, May 10, let us turn our attention to creating in our respective local communities more interest in the health of all children and the proper care of all expectant mothers. I wish preachers would devote a sermon to each of these subjects. Saving lives is not remote from saving souls. We read that Jesus went about healing the sick.

Why don't we do more to make motherhood safer for mothers, and for the poor as welfl as for the rich? Why should any community deny an expectant mother proper medical care because she lacks the funds to employ a competent doctor? When we really will have grown socially minded, proper care of every expectant mother will be easily possible. To this end women's clubs, parent-teacher associations and churches could, if they really cared, create a healthy public conscience. I wonder why the church generally has been so disinteretsed in the expectant mother. And I wonder why the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has never made the welfar of expectant mothers one of its major projects.

Of course, there is many an expectant mother whose family budget could permit proper checking of her condition and care during her pregnancy by a competent physician, yet who does not have this care because her husband does not see the necessity of such care. His wife—bless her soul—thinks he might count her selfish or extravagant were she to suggest the necessary expenditures.

Cultivate Tender Attitude.

I have often wished that fraternities and lodges and men's service-luncheon-clubs would launch, right in their own organizations, an educational program to lead their members to acquire a more intelligent and tender attitude toward the expectant mother. What a lot of good they might do! You see, women's clubs can't do much to change the attitude of men. Mothers, of course, might do a great deal with their growing boys to prepare them to be more considerate husbands by and by.

Representing about 2,000,000 members, chiefly mothers, in local parent-teacher associations, several thousand delegates will assemble at Milwaukee, ay 11-15, for the annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Leaders of the nation in nursery school, kindergarten and primary education, will meet for the annual convention of the Childhood Education association in New York City, April 29-May 2.

The country farmer had given permission to an old Irishman to sleep in the barn. That night the farmer went around to the barn, to see that the man was comfortable, and found him lying on a heap of straw, with a drainpipe for a pillow.

"Don't you find that pipe hard?" asked the farmer.

"No, yer honor," said Pat. "I've filled it with straw."

YOUNG COUPLE WILL LIVE IN NEW CASTLE

Miss Lillian Jane Rhodes, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rhodes, of Cleveland, O., formerly of New Castle and more recently of Tippecanoe Road, Youngstown, was married on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to Dorse O. Seiple, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Seiple, Catalina avenue, Youngstown. Rev. W. E. Hammaker officiated at Trinity M. E. parish house.

The bride and her parents are very well known in New Castle, their former home, and it is with pleasure that the many friends learn that the young wedded couple will make their home in New Castle, at 308 Berger Place, after a short honeymoon trip.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was fashioned with long full skirt, with high neckline, and the short jacket had leg-o'-mutton sleeves and was buttoned from the neckline to the peplum. Her hat was of a matching material and she carried an arm bouquet of white bridal roses.

Miss Elaine Van Orsdel, her maid of honor and only attendant, wore peach lace, with long full skirt and short jacket, and her hat was similar to that of the bride. Johanna Hill roses fashioned her arm bouquet. Richard Seiple served his brother as best man.

Norman Jenner and Arthur Johnson were ushers.

Orchid print with harmonizing accessories was worn by Mrs. Rhodes, and Mrs. Seiple chose a brown print with matching accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of Johanna Hill roses.

Durban Rhodes of Cleveland, brother of the bride, accompanied by D. D. Jamison, sang "I Love You Truly," "Oh, Promise Me," and "If God Left Only You."

Following the congratulatory period at the church the couple left immediately for a honeymoon, their destination unknown. Traveling, the bride wore a burnt orange knitted dress with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of South high school and attended Miami University. She has been associated with the Commercial Shearing and Stamping Co. Mr. Seiple, a graduate of Rayen school and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., is with the Personal Finance Co., of New Castle.

The popular bride has been entertained at a series of delightful prenuptial events, and with Mr. Seiple shares the best wishes of many friends.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Miller and daughter, Marilyn, of Tiffin; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Alexander and son Bob, of New Philadelphia; Dr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Seiple, Mr. and Mrs. H. Trade Agressment Proclaimed Today

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—President Roosevelt today proclaimed a new trade agreement between the United States and Colombia.

Representing another link in the drive to strengthen the bonds of economic unionities among the nations of the continent, the agreement will become effective May 20.

"I say that religion is the belief in future life and in God. I don't believe in either."

The hoptoad beside the train watching the express train go by, might say, reasonably enough:

"I do not believe in such a thing as a locomotive engineer."

MR. DARROW, earnest, sincere, is advised now by an old friend, to read again the first lines of Bacon's essay on atheism.

"I had rather believe all the fables in the legend, and the Talmud, and the Alcorn, than that this universal frame is without a mind; and therefore, God never wrought miracle to convince atheism, because his ordinary work convince it.

"It is true that a little philosophy inclineth a man's mind to atheism, but depth in philosophy bringeth men's minds about religion."

FOURTEEN HUNDRED read of Asiatic cholera in Siam, 100 dying each week. The problem is largely one of pure water.

Oriental peoples learned to make tea, did not get cholera, thought the tea saved them. What really saved them was boiling the water to make the tea. Boiling kills cholera germs.

France and other nations have avoided typhoid epidemics by mixing red wine with their drinking water. Typhoid germs die in that mixture. Old-fashioned French ladies, even now, will take a glass of plain water from a child with a warning against such recklessness.

IT IS to be hoped that Congress, pouring our millions as Niagara pours water, will not be too stingy with the crime-investigating branch of the Department of Justice.

That department, with its remorseless pursuit of criminals, is the one agency able to "bring in the big shots."

The G-Man is the one that big criminals fear.

Whoever swindles the Bank of England is pursued all over the world, if necessary, regardless of cost, as long as he lives. For that reason, criminals leave the old bank alone.

Any money, spent honestly to discourage criminals in this crime-ridden country is well spent.

DR. SHIRLEY WYNNE, former health commissioner of New York worries about birth control because "the wrong people keep having families, and the right people cut their families through birth control."

Who are the "right and wrong" people. A woman who does not want a child would not welcome it and might better not have it.

A vast majority of all human beings worth while come from poor families, who, presumably, include many of the "wrong" kind.

Those that want children will have them, and they will have the best children.

DR. WYNNE mentions figures:

Rich New York City spends yearly fifty cents a year on the health of each citizen, $3.50 for fire prection, and $8.50 for police protection.

That presents a good picture of our civilization.

The unsolved murders are jotted down on the police records as "unfinished business."

Await Capture Of Addis Ababa

Only Few Thousand Persons Remain In Ethiopian Capital

LEGATIONS TAKE CARE OF NATIONALS

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

ADDIS ABABA, April 21.—Emergency measures to feed and protect their nationals were taken today by the American, British, and other foreign legations as a few thousand persons—all that remain of the capital's population—waited in the weirdly tense atmosphere of "psychological siege" for the arrival of the first Italian troops.

The grounds of each legation resembled an army camp, with hundreds of Indians, Arabs, and other aliens pitching their tents around the British headquarters.

Army kitchens were set up to care for them until life returns to normal under Italian rule.

Business Suspended

All business was suspended, shops were closed with shutters, and the center of the city, outside the legation quarter, was almost entirely deserted.

A company of 150 Indian soldiers guard the British subjects and help to police the city.

Observers believe they will be confined to barracks and the legation grounds as soon as the Italians take the city, in order to prevent a possible clash.

Rumors fill the city, but some calmness has been restored by word from Rome that the drive for Addis Ababa has not yet extended more than 20 or 30 miles below Dessye.

Although the city proper will probably not be defended, it is anticipated that the Italians will use the same tactics in entering it as they employed in taking Makale and Dessye.

First large troop concentrations will completely encircle the capital and occupy the hights overlooking it, and then detachments will enter the city simultaneously at all entrances.

The bank of Ethiopia will close Thursday, and the staff and funds will be taken to Djibouti, French Somaliland, Friday.

Approximately forty members were present and several visitors and friends including Miss Owens, Mrs. Addison Caruthers, Mrs. John Wettich, Miss Mollie Hinkson, Mrs. Samuel Patterson, Mrs. Zella Dicks and Mrs. McCracken.

The meeting was opened by singing the "Crusade Psalm". Mrs. M. R. Newberry was at the piano. Mrs. J. S. Riley had charge of the worship period and read the sixth chapter of St. Mark.

Mrs. T. W. Donaldson reported as secretary, Miss Martha Dodds reported on dues and finances and read the names of new members. The new members reported were: Mrs. T. J. Hamilton, Mrs. E. Price Frye, Miss Iretta V. Dart, Miss Lillian L. Donaldson, Mrs. Leonard Campbell, Mrs. William M. Smith and Mrs. A. H. Morse.

Miss Grace Eakin gave a report on the Loyal Temperance League and announced a meeting to be held in the near future. Miss Dodds gave the T. L. B. report in the absence of Mrs. James Pherson.

Arrangements were made to take care of Stevens and Frances Willard funds. Mrs. A. W. Mercer was appointed chairman of sales committee. It was agreed to extend the closing of membership campaign from May 1 until May 15. Mrs. Robert McBurney announced the W. C. T. U. institute to be held at Y. W. C. A. on April 23. The meeting was turned over to the entertainment committee. Mrs. T. A. Preston, in her gracious manner, introduced as guest speaker, T. Wilber McCullough, who gave a very interesting and instructive address on state legislation. At the close of his address Mr. McCullough was extended a vote of thanks. Dr. Charles B. Wingerd took the floor and gave an important talk on present day conditions, urging the women to rally to the cause of prohibition. A period of questions led by Dr. Wingerd followed. Dr. Wingerd's delightful answers added much to the interest of the meeting.

A social period followed during which Mrs. Hinkson and her aids, Mrs. A. L. Johnson, Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. John Wettich and Miss Mollie Hinkson, served dainty refreshments. The union's president, Mrs. Joseph H. Riley, announced the Mother's and Temperance Light Bearer's party to be held in the Reformed Presbyterian church, Oak avenue, May 6. Mrs. James C. Pherson is director.

The next monthly meeting of the Frances Willard union will be held in the manse of the Central Presbyterian church, 328 Park avenue, on May 15. Mrs. C. B. Wingerd will be hostess. The guest speaker will be Miss Lucile Lutton.

It was voted by the members to give $5 to the sentinary fund. Mrs. Shaffer read "Mother Hates Liquor So and That's Why We Just Can't Touch It." Mrs. Owrey read "Man Must Not Live By Bread Alone." Mrs. Vaughn read "Membership."

Mayor McNair Has Backed Down, Will Return $100 Fine

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 21.—Pittsburgh's fiery Mayor William N. McNair today had back-pedaled on his refusal to obey a court order to refund a $100 fine to an alleged "numbers" writer.

The mayor was arrested Saturday on charges of embezzlement and non-feasance because of his refusal to return the city fine to Sam Collinger who won an appeal in the county court.

In a riotous hearing before Judge M. A. Musmanno the mayor argued for two hours, that the responsibility was the city council's and not his. Finally, however, he gave in and promised to refund the money which he had threatened would not be returned until after the primaries.

"BETTER SHOES FOR BETTER HEALTH"

110 East Washington Street

My New York
By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, April 21.—An old warehouse on the corner of Christopher and Washington Streets hums with a strange activity from dawn to dusk. Swarthy and apple-cheeked men and women mob the place in continual streams; they have one thing in common and one only—their English is broken with a hundred Old World accents.

For this is the Naturalization Bureau and in recent months, despite quota laws which restrict the ingress of aliens, business has boomed there. For awhile, with America in depression's grip, there wasn't such a rush for citizenship.

But now the prospecting is good again—at least better than across the water—and the applicants for citizenship swarm in. Many of them can get more from the relief agencies than they could earn by hard work at home. And also word has trickled across the pond and that tomorrow, or the day after, this munificent government is going to give everybody over a certain age a princely income for doing nothing at all.

I am told that only one question has never been answered in the affirmative by applicants for final papers. The question: "Are you a believer in the practice of polygamy?"

Fashion nifties come and go, and most of the wild predictions for colored suits and feathered sombreros for men turn out to be the idle dreams of newspaper prophets. But only one innovation for gentlemen currently on view in the town captures this reporter's imagination. Those bright red shoes affected by Ray Bolger in the finale of "On Your Toes" are already on my Santa list for next Yule.

Manhattan newsreel snap: Prince Louis Ferdinand, of Germany, grandson of the former Kaiser, chatting hilariously with Eddie Rickenbacker, at a meeting of the Banshees, the artists-and-writer luncheon coterie.

Incidentally, of all world war veterans, aviators maintained the most Chesterfieldian tradition of courtesy and gallantry to foes after the war and during it, between dogfights.

Case in point: Dr. Herman Goetz, who has been in hot water for alleged military peeking recently, was well-known during the war as an inquisitor. When Allied aviators fell behind the German lines it was Herr Goetz' duty to question them closely, if they remained alive, in the hope of extracting military secrets.

Yet when hostilities ceased and Goetz visited America he was feted and extended lavish hospitality by the very men, many of them renowned aces, whom he had once pumped for information they'd have opened a vein rather than give.

The Broadway boys tell me that insurance men are leary of policies protecting actors against a mishap I had always thought was rather rare: falling off the stage!

And yet, if you examine the records closely, you will find a surprising number of these missteps, even by the soberest performers, every month. Joe Dorris, in Gus Edwards' vaudeville revival, "Sho-Window", sprawled last week over the footlights into a startled lady's lap in the midst of his routine. And also last week, Mary Jane Cooper, taking a bow during her first personal appearance at a movie palace after her hit in "Scandals", fell off the stage and got such a bruising she had to cut out part of her dance routine for the rest of the day.

Former Actress To Be Given Degree

(International News Service)

BETHLEHEM, Pa., April 21.—Dr. E. J. Heath, president of Moravian college, has announced that honorary degrees will be conferred May 23 on Mrs. August Belmont, former actress, and Dr. Bruce Carey, of Philadelphia, director of the famous Bach choir.

Mrs. Belmont, the former Eleanor Robson, has been active in late years as a patron of New York opera and was organizer of the Metropolitan opera guild, formed to bring the public closer to opera.

Dr. Carey is a member of the faculty of Girard college, Philadelphia, and a director of the Mendelssohn club.

The chief trouble with the world is too many people who think justice consists in letting them have their way.

On Court House Hill

Resignation of James A. George as judge of election in the sixth precinct of the second ward, was presented to Judge Chambers today. Mrs. Bertha Milliken of 807 East Winter avenue, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

County commissioners were in Ellwood City yesterday looking after election places preparatory to the coming primary. Some changes are being made in voting places, and others are being cleaned out and put in proper shape.

Fifty-six instruments of all kinds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number twenty-five were deeds and sixteen were mortgages. In the list of mortgages were six to the Butler Production Credit Association. These loans are secured by farmers to finance seed for crops and the purchase of livestock.

Interest in good reading matter appears to be evidenced in the applications of various clubs for charters from the court. One of the principal objects generally set forth in applications is the maintenance of a reading room where the members may indulge in books and magazines. Improvement of the mind is a laudable ambition. A club room filled with members buried deep in their books is an inspiring sight. It is just such unquenchable thirst for knowledge as this that gradually weans the human mind away from the frivolities of life.

County Treasurer Joseph Hartland has received from the department at Harrisburg another supply of dog licenses, and is now in shape to continue the issuing of them which was interrupted when the supply ran out last week. So far 6,586 licenses have been issued, which is several hundred more than last year and sets a record.

Holders for the registration cards at the permanent registration bureau are now kept under lock and key. The problem of how to lock the holders was solved by J. E. Pankratz who invented a special metallic clamp which fits on one corner of the holder. This clamp is in two parts and is secured by a small padlock. When the holders are locked it is impossible for anybody to get at the registration cards without a key. There is a master key and a separate key for each holder.

Roy H. Aylesworth, receiver for the Pittsburgh company at Ellwood City, sometime ago presented a petition to court, asking leave to sell some lots to S. P. Nye for $600. Hearing was fixed for yesterday and as no objects were offered Judge W. Walter Braham approved the sale. Mr. Aylesworth has been gradually getting rid of property but still has considerable on his hands.

Less interest appears to be shown in the forthcoming primary by the rank and file of party members than in any election for years. This is largely due to the fact that there are no county offices to be filled. The legislative, state senate, congressional, and delegate situations don't seem to engender much enthusiasm. This is to be regretted as they are all important offices.

Petition to strike off bail in the case of Antonio Servides against James and Gust Talagonis has been presented to court. The bail was given when an appeal was filed in a case heard by Alderman Brice. It is claimed that the bondsman does not own real estate. A rule was issued, returnable on the first Monday of May.

Rare Specimens Of Animals And Birds

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—Rare specimens of animals and birds, weighing approximately 12 tons, were brought back from Tibet recently by Brooke Dolan, 2nd., Villanova explorer in charge of an Academy of Natural Sciences expedition.

Included among the trophies were a full series of the McNeill deer which scientists thought was extinct and a wild Tibetan yak, the only other one of which is possessed by the Leningrad Museum in Soviet Russia. Dolan spent two years on the Tibetan Plateau, known as the "Roof of the World."

One of his finds was the burial place of a forgotten Mongol people who interred their dead in burrows and were proficient in copper and pottery arts. Tame yaks were used to transport baggage over the virtually roadless country where roving bands of bandits occasionally threatened.

The strength of his party warded of attacks, Dolan explained.

Nearly $19,000,000 Available For Roads In Pennsylvania

Huge Sum Possible For State From Federal Funds For Improvements

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21—Pennsylvania has available for a new highway program more Federal funds than any other state in the Union, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Public Roads.

The Keystone State has on hand for new road projects a total of $18,921,772 in Federal money. Of this amount $7,517,529 came from the 1935 emergency relief highway fund, $9,127,890 from the 1935 emergency relief grade crossing appropriation, $1,627,945 from the 1936 federal-aid highway program, $385,692 from the 1935 PWA apportionments and $262,716 from the 1934 PWA allotments.

Ohio, with $13,320,000 in Federal funds available for new highway projects, ranks next to Pennsylvania. West Virginia comes far down the list with but $4,412,524.

Clergy Honors Dr. E. A. Crooks

Senior Member Of Ministerial Association Is Paid Tribute

Tribute to the long and faithful service given to church and community by Dr. E. A. Crooks was paid at Monday's meeting of the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. Sam Maitland was spokesman for the association in praising the character and work of Dr. Crooks and the 20 years of good fellowship and active interest he has given as a member of the ecclesiastical body. Other ministers volunteered further words of appreciation and the senior member, Dr. Crooks, responded graciously.

Dr. Crooks is to be further honored at a social period at the close of the next regular meeting, in two weeks. The well known minister recently resigned as pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, effective May 12.

Rev. Rees T. Williams, president of the association, presided at yesterday's meeting and Rev. William McPherson was in charge of the devotions.

A committee composed of Dr. G. S. Bennett, Dr. J. J. McIlvaine and Rev. R. B. Withers was appointed to have charge of arrangements for the outdoor union church services this coming summer.

Dr. C. H. Heaton introduced the speaker of the day, Rev. C. D. Henderson, pastor of the Union Baptist church.

Rev. Henderson had for his subject, "The Negro and His Religion." He delivered an address which all the ministers agreed was excellently prepared and of extraordinary interest.

Rabbi Norman Diamond closed the meeting with prayer.

Slayer Of Girl May Be Paroled

Shocking Crime Of Ten Years Ago Recalled By Convict's Plea For Release

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—David L. Marshall, whose sensational trial for the torso murder of pretty Anna May Dietrich shocked the commonwealth 10 years ago, may be released on parole this month from eastern penitentiary, it was learned here.

Marshall, a Byberry chiropractor, was convicted of second degree murder and sentenced to 10 to 20 years after the woman's dismembered body was found. Although he failed in pleas for pardons since his incarceration in 1926, Marshall's minimum sentence expires April 23, according to prison records, and he is expected to be released under surveillance.

A bloody torso was the first grusome find of investigators four days before Marshall was arrested late in 1925. The hacked trunk was found on a lonely suburban road. The legs were nearby and the head was discovered under a railroad bridge in upper Darby.

Police quoted Marshall as saying he killed the attractive milliner, who was 35, because she threatened to blackmail him. On trial, he said she took poison in his office and that he dismembered and hid the body because he was afraid he would be accused of her death.

Fireworks Banned On 4th Of July

CONSHOCKEN, Pa., April 21.—Whitemarch township, long one of the last strongholds of the "open" Fourth of July in this part of the state, has finally turned thumbs down on the sale or display of fireworks.

For many years, Whitemarsh has been the mecca for fire works dealers banned from other sections, and the source of "bootleg" displays which have annoyed residents of "safe and sane" areas. Violation of the new laws will mean a $25 fine under a ruling passed by the township supervisors.

SPANISH VETS TO OBSERVE MUSTER DAY

On Saturday evening, April 25, at 7:30 at the Legion Home, the local camp of United Spanish War Veterans will observe Muster Day. The regular date for Muster Day is April 21st but as the regular meeting of the local camp is Saturday evening, the observance will take place then.

This celebration is held for the purpose of renewing the obligation to country, comrades and their dependents, and for the further purpose of strengthening United Spanish War Veterans' organizations. This will be an open meeting and all Spanish War Veterans of the District, whether members of the camp or not, are urged to attend. Major Guy J. Wadlinger, a World War veteran and active in service men's affairs, will address the meeting on the value of membership in veteran's organizations.

Mongol Officials Are Put To Death

Four Courtmartialled And Then Summarily Executed For "Treachery"

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HSINKING, Manchuria, April 21—With startling suddenness, General Ling Sheng, governor of North Hsingan province, and three other high provincial officials were courtmartialled and summarily executed on charges of spying and plotting with the Soviet government, it was officially announced today.

Two other Mongol officials were sentenced to prison by the Manchukuoan military court, one to 12 years and the other to 15.

Back of the sensational case which is certain to have serious echoes in outer Mongolia and Moscow, lie five years of Japanese and Russian intrigue.

General Ling was arrested only a week ago, charged with "treachery" and with giving military secrets to the Soviets, resulting, said high officials of the Japanese continental army, in several of the recent border clashes that have raised Russo-Japanese tension to a dangerous point.

U.S. To Europe In Two And Half Days Is Zeppelin Plan

Zeppelin Hindenburg Would Make Round Trip In Five And One-Half Days

Regular Trans-Atlantic Service Frankfurt To Lakehurst Planned

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 21.—Two and one-half days to Europe by Zeppelin!

That's the big idea behind the projected flight early next month of the new $3,200,000 zeppelin, the Hindenburg, from Frankfurt-on-Main, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J.

If this flight is successful, as is confidently anticipated by German business men, The Hindenburg will make twenty crossings of the North Atlantic this summer. The ten round-trips of The Hindenburg are scheduled between Frankfurt-on-Main and Lakehurst, beginning about the middle of May and lasting until late in October.

Make Fast Time

Westbound the Hindenburg proposes to make the voyage in three days; eastbound two and one-half days.

One way passenger fare will be $400; round trip $720. The rate for the first voyage from Frankfurt to Lakehurst will be $100 additional. Passage for the initial trip has been booked completely.

Fifty passengers and a crew of forty, with Dr. Hugo Eckener, Germany's "grand old man of the air," in command will be aboard The Hindenburg on its maiden voyage to America.

Will Have Observer

Although the United States Navy is no longer operating dirigibles, it will have an observer on board. He will be Lieut. Commander S. E. Peck, navy lighter-than air expert, who is now in Germany studying technical problems of dirigibles.

The Hindenburg's voyage may mark the realization of Dr. Eckener's cherished dream of an air line between Europe and America. Eckener, it will be recalled, was the man who thrilled this country when he brought the ZR-3 to Lakehurst in 1924 and who subsequently made spectacular flights with the Graf Zeppelin, one of them a trip around the world.

Preparations Made

At Lakehurst preparations already are under way to receive and service The Hindenburg throughout the summer. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl of the Lakehurst naval air station has assigned definite duties to officers and ground crew whenever the Zeppelin is in port at Lakehurst.

The eyes of the world will be on Germany's Hindenburg and Great Britain's Queen Mary next month when they set forth in the quest of new trans-Atlantic honors.

Stewart Candidate For State Senate

Announces Candidacy For Nomination At Democratic Primaries Next Week

HUGH LeROY STEWART

Some elections are won by mud-slinging. Some are won by buying votes, while others are won by adroit side-stepping of issues. I wish to do none of these. In asking your consideration of my candidacy for State Senator, I should like to be elected on my qualifications and platform.

1. A good senator should know the people he represents. My private and public work has given me a wide acquaintanceship in Lawrence and Beaver Counties. As an executive engineer on the C. W. A., R. W. D. and the W. P. A. I have worked in five counties and have had personal contact with thousands of men engaged in these programs in Western Pennsylvania.

2. A good senator would know the needs of the people he represents. He should understand physical and social conditions in the state and their effects on the lives of human beings. My association with workers on the public works programs has emphasized to me the need of an extensive program of social legislation. As a part of this program social security is eminent. Any plan of pension or old age insurance which provides sufficiently, promptly and humanly will receive my support or sponsorship.

I am convinced that part of the burden of taxation should be removed from the small real estate owner, by making every type of wealth bear its share in supporting the government. Taxes should be further lowered by eliminating unneccessary duplications of employment in public service.

A proper and sensible regulation of the liquor business must be maintained.

Labor conditions can be improved by providing a more adequate and prompt compensation insurance.

Uniform hours throughout all state work should be maintained and the rates of pay should be governed by the classification of the work and adequate standards of living.

The most basic and far-sighted type of social legislation is concerned with the maintenance of high educational standards. Equipping our children with proper training today will enable them to grapple more intelligently with the social, economic and practical problems of the future.

3. A good senator should have a working knowledge of state construction projects. My engineering experience with five different railroads, two large coal companies, cement companies, limestone operations, industrial plants, municipal development, and variou projects of highway construction has brought me in contact with the problems of directing natural forces into channels useful to human needs.

Our aim should be to complete projects under the regular existing departments of the state. The building of safer highways, the elimination of grade crossings and the construction of dams and reservoirs for flood prevention are enterprises in which I am interested and to which I shall direct my attention..

4. A good senator should represent his people with justice. Since I am independent in my campaign and consequently owe no favors to any group or to any individuals, I shall be unhindered in giving impartial consideration to different interests and decide in accordance to the greatest good to the greatest number of people.

Boy Actor To Be Central Figure In Hearing In Los Angeles Court

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 21—Freddie Bartholomew, 12-year-old film star and storm center of a bitter three cornered custody battle, was expected to take the witness stand himself today and play his greatest role in a superior court.

The 12-year-old actor, it was learned, will be asked to testify in the hearing on an objection filed by his mother to a guardianship awarded his aunt six months ago. The case opens today before Superior Judge Arthur Keetch.

The solemn-eyed child star will be called in defense of his beloved "Aunt Cissie" Miss Myllicent Bartholomew, who raised him from infancy and sponsored his acting career.

As court opens today Mrs. Lillian Mae Bartolomew, the mother, will see her son for the first time since he has soared to fame. She has traveled here from England to fight for his custody, and has been denied an interview with the boy, according to her charges.

Arrest Two Men And Woman In Gun Fight In Missouri

ONE WANTED FOR BANK ROBBERY

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, April 21.—Closing in on a tourist camp near Hickman Mills, Mo., 14 miles south of here early today, ten federal agents and five officers from the Missouri State Highway patrol took into custody two men and a woman, after wounding one of the prisoners in a gun battle.

One of the government agents was slightly wounded in the thigh during the battle.

The prisoners are Clarence Sparger, 32, who was wounded in the back and leg, John Langan, also known as Langdon, 30, and Sparger's wife, Juanita, 30.

One Of O'Malley Gang

Sparger, whose wounds were not believed seriously is said to be one of the last of the Walter (Irish) O'Malley gang of bank robbers. He was wanted by the government for the robbery of the First National bank at Neosho, Mo., in 1935.

Langan had been sought by Kansas authorities since he wounded a Wyandotte county deputy sheriff in a gun fight last fall in which Langan's wife was killed. He was wanted by the government for transporting stolen cars, and Kansas City police plan to question him about the unsolved slaying of Vivian Chase here.

Gangsters' associate, she was found shot to death in an automobile behind a hospital here November 3, 1935 while being sought in connection with the kidnaping of August Luer, 79-year-old Alton, Ill., banker.

Langan is a former associate of Jess (Blackie) Doyle and Dave Sherman former O'Malley gangsters, arrested recently in Dallas.

BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT

T. WILBER McCULLOUGH

In these days of reckless governmental spending we hear the cry for more business methods in government. One way of getting it is to elect business men to office. For the General Assembly, first district, we believe T. Wilber McCullough to be the kind of business man who would spend the taxpayers money in the same careful manner he has spent his own. Government is business. Why not send a business man to the General Assembly?

A fourth passenger suffered only superficial bruises and was discharged from a hospital here after treatment.

The dead were Dominic Runco, 39, of Cadogan, and Paul Szlankiewicy, 21, the driver, of Ford City. Runco's son, Joseph, 16, suffered a fractured skull and was said to be near death.

To Republican Voters of Lawrence County

In order to correct any wrong impression that may exist with regard to support being given to the candidates listed below, the following facts are stated. Early this year at the instance of State Chairman of the Republican Party various elected leaders of the Republican Party called a meeting of representative citizens from the three counties of this Congressional District for the avowed purpose of reaching an agreement upon candidates.

Effort was made all over the State, and successfully, to thus permit party harmony by avoiding bitter primary contests. It was hoped that party welfare would be promoted in this important presidential year by the representatives of the Twenty-Sixth Congressional District and the Forty-Seventh Senatorial District centering upon one candidate for Congress, and one candidate for State Senator as was being done elsewhere. For this purpose, with the aid of State Committeemen, a meeting of County Chairmen and others selected by them was held at Beaver. Pa., January 18; with others from Butler and Beaver Counties, the following men from Lawrence County attended this meeting:

Leslie Brindle	Carl C. Davidson	Robert L. Wallace
Filmore Campbell	W. W. Duff	Bart Richards
Jos. H. Hartland	Roy W. Hazen	Geo. T. Weingartner

At the Beaver meeting it was agreed that since both Beaver and Butler Counties had had representatives in Congress in recent years, and since Lawrence County had only had the honor of having a Congressman once in the past 40 years and not at all since the new alignment as a Congressional District, it would seem fitting and proper that they should be given the opportunity at this time of selecting a man to be supported at the primary.

After thorough discussion, it was unanimously agreed that the representatives of Lawrence County should be allowed time to select a man for Congress, and that representatives of Beaver County would select a man for State Senate, and that all three counties would co-operate on this basis . It was agreed that after Lawrence County's selection was made, another meeting would be held at New Castle for further action by an enlarged group of interested citizens from the three counties.

In accordance with these arrangements Roy W. Hazen, Chairman of the Lawrence County Republican Committee, called a meeting of the following representative Rspublicans:

Robert L. Wallace	Geo. W. Muse	John G. Lamoree
Leslie Brindle	Chas. H. Young	Audley Boak
Carl C. Davidson	R. W. Rowland	B. J. Biondi
Filmore Campbell	Keith McAfee	Dr. Frederick A. Taylor
Walter W. Duff	Ross Kirkpatrick	Chester Sweezy
Joseph H. Hartland	John P. Lockhart	John N. Pattison
Bart Richards	Thos. H. Hartman	Gail Morrison
Guy Wadlinger	Milton Bickett

On January 31 the above conferees met and endorsed Orville Brown of Lawrence County for Congress and Hon. A. S. Batchelor of Beaver County for State Senate.

This advanced the matter to where the second tri-county meeting was held at New Castle, Pa, February 29. This meeting was called to order by County Chairman Roy Hazen at which time the name of Mr. Orville Brown was presented as the Lawrence County conferee' choice for the Congressional nomination. The name of Mr. Alonzo S. Batchelor was presented as Beaver County's choice for the State Senator. The names of Mr. Chas. H. Young of New Castle and Mr. R. B. Greer of Butler were presented as delegates to the Republican National Convention and that of Mrs. Nancy Stone of Butler as one of the alternates. Later, Beaver County, as was their privilege, named Mrs. Madge Y. Schaich as the other alternate. After considerable discussion concerning the advisability of taking such action in the interest of harmony, a vote was taken which resulted in but one dissenting vote being cast which was cast by Mr. H. B. Callahan of Butler. In the meantime, before a vote had been taken, the views of various people were presented and we refer you particularly to the views of Mr. Robert L. Wallace who however pledged himself to support the candidates selected by the meeting. This pledge has since been broken.

The selection of these candidates through the medium of these meetings was not made with any desire to impose any particular candidates upon this district but was solely in the interest of party harmony. This conforms to the general policy of the party throughout the State and is evidenced by the fact that other prospective candidates—Dr. R. B. Greer—and others—have remained out of the race.

The action of these men, which was entirely unselfish, conforms to the example set by Mr. Baldwin retiring from the Auditor General contest and State Chairman Taylor and Otto Messner retiring from the State Treasurer contest.

Regardless of these efforts by sincere people a disgruntled minority, led by former Senator Weingartner, a public officeholder for twenty-one years, the Hon. R. L. Wallace, who has had one sort or another of political job as far back as memory remains clear, and J. P. (call me John) Lockhart, signer of misleading and entirely selfish publicity, broke their pledges to work for party good and allowed their own selfish personal ambitions to lead them to support a candidate from Butler County, who has twice been defeated for Judge in his own county.

The Harmony ticket is the result of a movement of the State Chairman to bring about harmonious relations in the party in order to present a solid front at the fall election, and we appeal to all Republicans who are truly interested in the success of the party, to support the movement.

Noted American Woman Here On Canal Study

One of America's outstanding women, Mrs. Mary Hanchett Stone was a guest in The Castleton hotel Monday. Mrs. Stone who is a resident of both Saginaw, Michigan, and Washington, D. C., is not a young woman in years but in the more than seventy years she has been active in a number of lines of endeavor.

She is an expert in international law, the first woman member to be admitted to the International Law Board and in her work with the board has travelled the world, attended conferences in most of the nations of the world and has an amazing first hand knowledge of conditions.

She is presently engaged in proposed waterway systems for the country and in the matter of inland water ways she is also an expert. Her first major experience in waterways development was in 1896 when at the invitation of the late "Uncle" Joe Cannon, czar of the House of Representatives she was invited to become a lay member of the commission sent to Panama to decide whether or not the United States would undertake the building of the Panama Canal.

Famous Forefather

A descendant of Birdsill Holley, the originator of the Holley waterworks systems which are standard throughout the world she has given most of her life to the study of waterways which are based on natural reasons. For the reason that the proposed St. Lawrence waterways is a violation of some of Nature's safeguards she is thoroughly against it and along with Senator J. Jamilton Lewis is given credit for stopping ratification of the legislation which would have started the building of it. She is further opposed to it because she believes it would hand over to the British crown the control of transportation facilities in the North American continent.

"I am opposed to the St. Lawrence project" said Mrs. Stone, "because I am opposed to interference with the hydraulics system of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence rivers. Nature has established two catch basins in these districts which would be ruined by the system proposed by the late King George, President Hoover and Prime Minister of Canada Bennett. I am opposed to the waterways from an economic reason. Whoever has the final entrance and exit into the Great Lakes will control the inland water ways system of the United States and this would include the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys.

"Should the St. Lawrence waterways be completed it would mean that all grain shipments from the west would be controlled by the speculators in Wall Street and Downing Street. It would mean the shipment of them by Canadian railways and in the winter would make great cities of Montreal and Quebec. The logical system of waterways would be for us to build our own "Welland canal" from Oswego to Albany, N. Y. This would make a great city of Albany and would keep the grain shipments in the hands of American railways and waterways."

Mrs. Stone is interested in the quicker shipment of ore from the ranges in Minnesota and Wisconsin to the Pittsburgh district and to accomplish this would cut a canal from the Beaver river to Erie, a canal from Toledo to Gary, Ind., and one across the northern tip of Michigan. This would avoid shipment through the Soo, cut several hundred miles in distance and bring the ore over an entirely American course. This is her reason for favoring the proposed canal to the lakes and the reason for being in New Castle today.

AROUND CITY HALL

Council has decided that the owner of any auto which damages a fire water hydrant, must pay for repairs or a new hydrant. At least, this was indicated when Joseph Felice appeared before the body. He said his car had struck a fire hydrant but maintained that it previously had been damaged. Council instructed Felice to begin making payments for a new hydrant. In response Mr. Felice informed council that during February a fire water hydrant had frozen and the water damaged goods in his cellar. He said he had reported the break to the water company. The city had no record of the break and the council, through Solicitor Robert White, indicated the city is not liable for the damage. This was the second case before council in which it was claimed water from a frozen plug damaged goods.

B. F. Butler, director of streets, has requested city police to arrest any trucker who loads his trucks in such a way that paper boxes, newspapers or other rubbish falls from the truck into the street.

While the WPA approved the continuation of the Martin street sewer, the money has not actually been received, according to city officials hence the work has not yet been resumed by WPA labor. At present several city employes are at work on the sewer.

Letters are being mailed by police oficials to persons whom are accused of violating automobile laws. This is one of the measures adopted toward helping the city win the 1936 safe driving award.

Members of the city police department were greatly pleased yesterday to see Patrolmen Ray Richards able to be on the street. Richards had a long siege of sickness. He was taken ill with pneumonia three months ago, suffered a relapse but looks to be rounding into the "pink" of condition.

A citizen reported to council that an intake at the corner of South Mercer and Reynolds streets is open. The hole is about four feet large, the citizen reported. Upon receipt of the information streets director B. F. Butler said the work had been done by WPA but his subordinates would be glad to cover the opening in an effort to prevent a posible accident. ?

LATIN AMERICAN NATIONS MAY QUIT LEAGUE

Movement To Quit Spreads

Report Nations Are Disgusted With Inefficacy Of Nations' League

BRAZIL WITHDRAWS FROM MEMBERSHIP

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—A movement is developing among the nations of Latin America to quit the League of Nations, according to information which has reached the state department.

The Latin American Republics were reported to be disgusted with the inefficacy of the league and its use by the big powers of Europe as an instrument of national policy.

Brazil already has walked out and Paraguay has served notice of its intention to quit.

Movement Spreads

The movement to abandon it has now spread to Chile, Mexico, Uruguay and Salvador.

In each of these Republics, a spontaneous movement has developed to quit the league and concentrate on the development of peace and unity among the nations of the American continent.

In Mexico, the movement already has reached the congress, where a group of senators, headed by Senator Candido Auglar, of the foreign relations committee, is sponsoring Mexico's immediate withdrawal.

A similar move is underway in Chile, where the press has started a campaign for that Republic's withdrawal from the league on the grounds that it has proved a failure in its efforts to preserve peace and merely is being used as an instrument of the great powers for their own ends.

In addition, three other Latin American Republics have formally intimated their dissatisfaction with it by proposing creation of an American League of Nations. They are Guatemala, Colombia and the Dominican Republic.

ANOTHER HOME BROKEN UP

Family to be Separated by Illness of the Homemaker

TRAGEDY AVERTED JUST IN TIME BY WONDERFUL RESULTS OF WELL KNOWN WORLD'S TONIC TREATMENT

Mrs. Pearl Johnston of Rochester, Pa., has cause to be grateful, for she and her three children are in their home, while the husband is gaining new successes in business. But it was a narrow escape from breaking up. Let her tell it.

"Last winter I caught a heavy cold that hung on frightfully. My head was full all the time, my eyes watered, and I had a persistent cough. When I got up in the morning I thought I would strangle before I could cough the phlegm loose. Nothing I took did me any good. Then early in the spring my stomach went back on me, and my kidneys gave me a lot of trouble. I had headaches and backache all the time. My folks thought I was going into consumption. I wasn't fit for any work, and my three children were greatly neglected.

"So my husband and I decided all we could do was to break up our family. My mother was to take my girl, and his folks were to look after the boys. Just imagine how I felt! I went to the drug store one morning to get relief for my stomach, and the druggist told me he thought that what ailed me was a bad case of catarrh. On his recommendation I got a bottle of World's Tonic. It helped my stomach so much that I got the second bottle, and before I had taken all of it my headaches ceased and back-ache was easier. The third bottle cleared up my kidneys and opened up my head. With the fourth I was almost well.

You may imagine how I felt when I knew I could keep my children. I was so glad I cried with joy and thanked heaven for sending this great new medicine to me, and when my husband stopped worrying about me he was able to make his business better. I tell you here is one family that is everlastingly grateful for the discovery of this wonderful medicine and will never cease to praise World's Tonic for all it has done for us." World's Tonic is for sale at Eckerd's; Paisley's, and all other first class drug stores. (A-46)

LAW PARTNERS BUT POLITICAL FOES

It will be difficult to keep politics out of the business dealings of these two law partners of McAlester, Okla. For one, Maj. Frank D. McSherry, left, is Republican county chairman and the other, John Monk, right, is Democratic county chairman. Monk is strong for the New Deal, and McSherry is bitter against it.

A New High in Amphibians

The Sikorsky S-43 amphibian shown above has set a new world record. Carrying a 500-kilogram pay load, the ship soared to a height of 27,950 feet for a new mark in unladen planes of this type. Boris Sergievsky, test pilot, flew the plane, and was accompanied by Igor Sikorsky, who designed it. Michael Pravikoff, Sergievsky's mechanician, flew with them. The ship is a fifteen-passenger high-wing cabin monoplane. (Central Press)

LET'S GET ALL THE FACTS

J. CAMPBELL BRANDON

In the past two weeks there has been circulated throughout the 26th Congressional District advertisements which claim that Orville Brown is a candidate for Congress as the result of a genuine harmony movement in the Republican ranks, and that Brown is the standard bearer of all factions of the Republican Party. In support of this claim reference is made to certain meetings held in Beaver and in New Castle. As a voter you are entitled to all the facts, some of the more important of which were left out of the advertisements referred to.

It is true that meetings were held in Beaver and New Castle in an effort to center upon one candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress. It is true that at a meeting in New Castle on February 29th Brown was endorsed by a group of Republicans selected by Roy W. Hazen, Republican County Chairman; but the facts surrounding that meeting have been either forgotten or purposely left out.

Prior to this meeting a letter was written by Orville Brown to the Republican County Chairman and received by him, the substance of which letter is as follows:

"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress. The group selected by you to settle upon a harmony candidate is not representative. It is such a group as cannot make a fair selection. Therefore, I will not propose my name, neither will I permit my friends to suggest my name to said group as a possible harmony candidate, nor will I abide by the decision of this group."

The friends of Mr. Brandon have requested the county chairman to furnish them with a copy of this letter and he has refused so to do. If you desire to verify the facts above set forth, call Mr. Roy W. Hazen, phone number 1238. He has the letter.

In the light of Mr. Brown's denial of the right of any group to select a harmony candidate; in the light of his stated refusal to abide by the decision of such a group; in the light of his insistence that he would be a candidate in spite of any action said group might take, why should he now be considered the harmony candidate?

Further support of his refusal to await for or abide by the decision of the so-called harmony committee is seen in the fact that on February 12, seventeen days before he was endorsed by this committee, through the press, he formally announced himself as a candidate, and entered actively upon his campaign.

Had any other candidate been endorsed by this committee, Brown would have been a candidate in spite of that fact, and this by his acts and own signed admission. By what right then does he preempt the title of "Harmony Candidate," when he was the one avowed candidate who denied Republicans the right to select a harmony candidate?

To reiterate his own words: "I will not be bound by any action this committee takes."

J. Campbell Brandon is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress. He appeals to the only people that have the right to decide the issue, the Republican voters of the 26th District.

If nominated and elected, he will owe nothing to selfish groups or predatory politicians for his nomination and election, and he will be free to act for and represent all citizens.

NOMINATE BRANDON. HE CAN BE ELECTED.

BRANDON FOR CONGRESS COMMITTEE.

JOHN P. LOCKHART, Chairman.

PARROT'S SCREECH SCARES BURGLARS

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—J. A. Duprey and Jack Myers were arrested here recently because they failed to appreciate a parrot's watch-dog possibilities.

A call to police headquarters gave the wrong address for a reported burglary, but Joe Keller, retired police captain, was guided to the correct location by a parrot's continuous screeching.

"The address given was wrong, but I could hear a parrot screeching in the house in which the burglars were hiding," Keller declared. "That parrot had any watchdog I ever saw beat by a mile."

A search of the house resulted in the capture of Duprey and Myers, who were charged with burglary.

Ethiopia Is Left To Fate Until May 11

League Will Not Meet Again Until Near Middle Of May

(International News Service)

GENEVA, April 21—Dispatching a mild "supreme appeal" to Italy for peace, the League of Nations council today left Ethiopia to her fate at least until the next meeting May 11, when a pro-sanctionist left-wing French government may be in office.

Following three stormy sessions in which Ethiopia's demand for military sanctions was ignored, and Britain hinted that the league's weakness may force her eventually to leave that body, the council adopted a resolution saying:

1—Peace negotiations have failed.

2—"The war is continuing under conditions which have been declared to be contrary to the covenant."

3—Present sanctions are to continue.

4—Italy and Ethiopia remain bound by the anti-gas pact.

also given the grade to which the street is to be raised.

There would be about three feet of a fill immediately east of the railroad tracks, and extending east toward the Neshannock bridge for some distance. The commissioners feel that with the width of the street and the height of the grade definitely known the property owners ought to give an idea of what damages they would want. The commissioners are willing to pay what would be reasonable.

According to borough councilmen the street was laid out and ordained at one time at fifty feet, but the records were destroyed in a fire, and were not recorded at the court house. An effort is being made to have the borough council pass another ordinance ordaining the street and fixing the width.

There are about seven property holders who will be affected by the change in grade, the Wilkin store property being among them. Unless they are able to get together and present to the county commissioners a definite statement as to the amount of damages they will ask and sign up to that effect, it looks as though the proposition will have to be abandoned.

WORK FEVERISHLY TO RELEASE MEN TRAPPED IN MINE

rescuers, or the rescue crew, was to find the quickest possible means of reaching the entombed men. Several schemes were presented. None, unfortunately, had the element of speed. Because of the depths and the enormous amount of material to be removed or penetrated, they formulated three plans, or rather, we formulated three plans.

"To sink a shaft through solid rock to reach a point in the mine below the disturbed area.

"To attempt to enter the mine by clearing out one or two old headways which were supposed to be driven close to the surface.

"To cut down a diamond drill hole at the point over where the entombed men were supposed to be when the accident occurred. That was for purposes of communication and so that food and medicine might be delivered to the men in case that rescue work was delayed because of unexpected difficulties.

Communication Established

"The drill reached the working face Saturday night and the men were found to be alive. Food was sent down and a telephone communication was established. In the meantime work was being pushed on a shaft and an attempt made to clear old headways, one headway was found to be so badly crushed that it was abandoned and work is still proceeding in the second headway and the point has now been reached on the main slope at the shaft level. The work of cutting an opening through the fallen rock which closed the slope is being rushed as fast as it is humanly possible.

"The heartbreaking feature of the problem is because of the fact that it is impossible to work more than two men at a time at the point of attack. The opening, at best, is only about three by four feet and filled, in addition to the rock, with a large amount of broken timber, and all material must be relayed from the point of extraction to the surface in two gallon buckets by a line of workmen which, at best, is naturally a slow and very tedious process.

Much Delay

"As the work is being driven through the crushed area it is necessary to timber every foot of the way, which means more delay. Two days ago it was confidently felt that the worst was over and that a few hours at the outside would suffice to reach the men. Unfortunately, other falls were encountered which delayed rescue to such an extent that some 20 feet of fallen material still lies between the rescuers and the imprisoned men.

"We have had offers of assistance and contributions of equipment from all over Canada. The workmen are, we firmly believe, the best that Canada can provide. Volunteers have reached here from the surrounding gold mines and the corners of the province, and an expert rescue crew has come in from Ontario. These men are particularly adapted to the job. They are hard rock miners.

Men Risking Lives

"The men working in the old headways risk their lives every time that they go below, yet on each change of shift the men who were underground sought to remain and those on the surface insisted on being permitted to take their places. It has been a long, hard, and in some ways a most discouraging battle when it is realized that time is the essence. But the men are as keen today as they were when the call was sounded nine days ago, and it is sincerely hoped that their efforts will be crowned with success.

"Naturally, after imprisonment for nine days, with little in the way of food, the condition of those in the pit cannot be other than serious. Frequent communications, however, lead us to believe that the survivors are bearing up as well as one could expect under such trying circumstances and we hope that unless their deliverance is unduly delayed they will be taken from the shaft alive."

Entombed Can Hear Tapping

Moose River, N. S., April 21.—Alfred Scadding, one of the two men entombed in a gold mine here, reported through the emergency pipe line sunk to them, early today, that he could hear "tapping" by rescue men fighting to reach the pair.

Engineers on the surface said Scadding probably meant he could hear the picks of the vanguard of rescue workers in the shaft being sunk to the 141 foot level of the mine.

They were puzzled by this, however as diamond drills employed to sink the shaft make a loud noise which can be heard for almost a mile around the mine, and which should drown out the sound made by the workmen's picks.

Further encouragement was provided when Scadding, through a tiny microphone lowered through the pipe line, reported he and Dr. Robertson had been able to snatch about two hours sleep during the night and felt 'rested and fine."

The entombed men expressed confidence they would be able to hold out until help reached them.

The third man entombed in the cave-in, which occurred Easter Sunday, Herman Magill, died Sunday from exposure and starvation.

Scadding asked that a light be lowered through the pipe line, but rescue workers feared this could not be done.

A hurry call for additional rescue men was sent to surrounding mine communities in the province when the men on the scene were found to be near exhaustion from their feverish labors.

Nudist Pastor Is Now Grocery Head

Rev. Harry Fowler, 60, Quits Nature's Garb For Store And Clothes

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 21.—With the head of one nudist camp in the mountains near here turning proprietor of a chain grocery store in Addison, a small mountain town, others are expected to spring up in the wooded districts.

The Rev. Harry Fowler, 60, who for two years was the head of a "sans-clothing" cult a mile from Elks Park (Somerfield), has just sold 200 acres of land, on which the men and women in nature's garb roamed the mountain. He has accepted a job as store proprietor and in the future will turn his efforts to merchandising instead of the new road to health.

Last summer nearly a score of persons in the colony were burdened with clothing. The cold weather drove them back to their homes in Pittsburgh, Fairmont, W. Va., and Cleveland.

A proposition to sell his large Summit hotel and hundreds of acres around it to one of the largest nudist organizations, was made to Leo Heyn, for years owner and operator of the mountain hostelry, near Uniontown.

Because of improvements he had made on the property, Heyn rejected the offer. The nudists had planned to use the grounds in summer and the hotel in the winter.

GROUP MEDICAL PLAN MEETING OPPOSITION

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—In the wake of controversy over his group medical service plan, Dr. C. Dudley Saul announced here that legislation to regulate such services is being prepared by Owen B. The Saul Clinic, serving the Philadelphia and Camden Newspaper Guild, among other groups, was ordered discontinued several weeks ago on charges that it violated state insurance laws.

Walter Biddle Saul, brother of the physician and his attorney, announced that Hunt is "not at all antagonistic to the group plan" and had accepted the Saul Clinic's offer to help draft the bill.

Pirate Homers Upset Cubs In Thrilling Game

Young, Suhr And Lavagetto Smack Out Homers That Upset Cubs 9 To 8

TIGERS-GIANTS SUFFER SETBACKS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 21.—All things must end sometime, including losing streaks of the Athletics and Browns and winning streak of the Giants.

Wherefore, today, we find the A's and Browns with their first victories and the Giants with their initial defeat.

It seemed as if the A's would never find anybody they could lick, but they finally ran up against Hippo Brown, Bump Hadley and the rest of the Yanks and staggered home, 12 to 11. The Yanks may never live that one down.

The Giants stacked up against Joe Bowman and the Phils on one of their good days and bowed, 7-6, although they almost pulled it out of the fire in the ninth when Mel Ott hit a homer with two aboard. Clyde Castleman, making his first start of the year, passed in one run and wild pitched in another and the Giants went haywire behind him with five boots.

Tigers Defeated

The Brown's pitching was nothing to write home about but it was better than that afforded the Tigers by Bridges, Rowe, Hogsett and Phillips and Hornsby's tribe came through, 9 to 6, scoring three times in the seventh and six in the eighth to put it away.

The Senators and platinum-plated Red Sox split a pair. The Sox won the first game by scoring three runs in the ninth, 6 to 5, but Bill Appleton, a rookie, held them to five hits in the nightcap, which the Senators grabbed, 6-2.

Indians Scalped

Vernon Kennedy, the White Sox's stylish youngster, outpitched Hildebrand, the Indians' veteran, to gain a 5-1 decision. Kennedy held the slugging Tribe to four hits, one of which was a homer by Trosky, preventing a shutout.

Homers by Lavagetto, Young and Suhr of the Pirates, ruined Roy Henshaw, the Cubs' little left hander. Roy had the game won going into the ninth when the Pirates built a four run uprising around Suhr's homer to win, 9-8.

Bees Win One

The Bees downed the Dodgers, 8 to 4. They teed off on big George Earnshaw and got him out of there before he could retire a man, scoring three times in the process.

And the Cards had to put over five runs in the ninth at the expense of Brennan and Derringer of the Reds to give Dizzy Dean his first victory, 8 to 7.

Three Cardinal errors and a homer by Myers did the Dizzy one no good but he was there at the finish and going stong.

St. Vitus Knights Meet Monday Night

Schmeling-Louis Bout Will Be In Yankee Stadium

Mike Jacobs And San Diego Men Fail To Get Together, Bout Is On June 18th

By HOPE IGOE
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 21.—The big fight isn't going to San Diego after all! Uncle Mike Jacobs today is going ahead with plans to put the great fistic extravaganza between Max Schmeling and Joe Louis into the house that Babe Ruth built on the night of June 18.

Mike didn't give up the San Diego project until the million dollar boys failed to keep a last day tryst in the offices of the 20th Century club yesterday at which time they were to make a sound like the crinkling of $500,000 bills, the first down payment on the purchase price of a cool million.

Maxie Due Today

Despite another offer of $1,250,000 coming from Cleveland, Uncle Mike ran up the shutters on the boys and announced that little Old New York was good enough for him. With only two months or so left in which to drum up trade, Mike decided not to waste another second listening to lads who talked high figures but who had not dropped a thin dime into the kitty so far.

Schmeling arrives in New York on the Bremen today and he will be met by the largest committee of sportsmen and newspaper writers ever to travel down the bay to meet an incoming celebrity.

Croton Softball Team Will Meet

Members of the Croton M. E. church softball team will have a meeting tonight at the Sunday school room at 7 o'clock for the purpose of organizing for the 1936 season. The meeting has been called by Harold Booth.

Hero And Goat

(International News Service)

The hero—Rookie Dean of Philadelphia Athletics, whose pinch single in the ninth beat New York Yankees, 12 to 11, and gave A's first win of season after five straight defeats.

The goat—Roy Henshaw, Chicago Cubs pitcher, who served a home run ball to Gus Suhr with two on base in the ninth and lost to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 8.

New Castle Church League Champions Will Enjoy Spaghetti Supper

Sacred Hearts, New Castle Church Basketball league champions, will be honored tonight at a spaghetti supper at 6:30 o'clock at the Community hall on Grove street. Upwards of 100 young men will gather for the event.

Gold medals will be awarded the championship players by their coach, Andy "Coots" Venditto. A fine program of entertainment has been mapped out for the evening. Several well known speakers have been obtained.

The Sacred Hearts are also known as the Keystone A. C. and have sponsored teams in New Castle for quite a few years. The supper tonight will climax a most successful season.

The program of speaking for tonight has been announced as follows—Arnold "Fiz" Fraser, Orville Brown, Henry MacNichols, Andy A. Venditto, Rocco P. Viggiano, Fred Marcella, Father Joseph Doerr, Charles Matthews and Domenick "Jap" Covelli. The toastmastering duties will fall to Charles "Bugs" Walther. The Keystone A. C. Juniors and Keystone Midgets will be invited guests at the banquet tonight.

Sutherland And Thorn To Speak To Hi Athletes

Combined Fooball And Basketball Banquet At Washington Wednesday

Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager at New Castle Senior High announced today that Dr. John B. "Jock" Sutherland, head coach at the University of Pittsburgh will be the football speaker and Coach Robert Thorn of Grove City, the basketball speaker at the combined football and basketball banquet to be tendered the High School boys on Wednesday night at the George Washington High building.

The banquet will start at 6:30 o'clock. Following the speaking program at the banquet the assemblage will retire to the gymnasium for a dance.

It is not likely that a big speaking program will be mapped out. Both Sutherland and Thorn will have fine messages for the young athletes.

There are quite a few reservations at the present time, and indications point to upwards of 200 at the banquet. Reservations can still be made by calling Ralph Gardner at 1388 or Principal Orth at Senior High on Wednesday morning.

Golf Committee At Field Club In Functioning

The following men will constitute the golf committee at the New Castle Field Club this summer and will have charge of the various events that take place: chairman, J. E. Elliott, J. B. Waddington, C. B. Fiester, C. F. Morrow and Angelo "Dike" Monsey. Mr. Monsey will also be the pro at the club again this year.

It was announced that the New Castle High golfing team has started to practice at the course under Coach Angelo Monsey, and that the team will play its first match next Tuesday.

Mr. Monsey today announced that the Field Club course is now open for play for the members. The course is in fine shape for this early in the year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Ellison (Tarzan) Brown, Narragansett Indian from Rhode Island, lived up to his tribal name of "Deerfoot" at Boston yesterday by winning the fortieth annual Boston A. A. marathon and a coveted berth on the American Olympic team. After bettering the course record at all six timing stations along the 26-miles 385 yard run, the Indian wilted on the home stretch and staggered blindly across the finish line in 2 hours 33 minutes 40 4-5 seconds which was two minutes 39 1-5 seconds behind the course mark established by Les Pawson, also of Rhode Island, in 1933. William F. McMahon of Worcester, Mass., was second with a mark of 2:35:37 3-5, and Del Porter, of Newark, was third in 2:36:48.

From now the pugilistic pot will bowl as the Max Schmeling-Joe Louis 15-round bout has been calendared for New York, June 18. All negotiations for a transfer of the fistic dish to San Diego have been cast aside. Max and Louis are expected to attract 90,000 customers through the turnstiles to the monetary tune of $1,500,000.

In San Francisco the fans saw Joe Roche decision Tommy Romero in a six-round bantamweight bout. Baltimore also had its feast on punch when Cowboy Howard Scott knocked out Buck Taylor in a 10-round lightweight duel.

Thirteen of the country's best timber-toppers will compete Saturday in the Maryland Hunt cup race, according to Baltimore reports. The steeplechase will be held over the course on the estate of J. W. Y. Martin in Worthington Valley. The difficult four mile course has 22 post and rail jumps. Inshore, Martin's bay gelding, won the Grand National point-to-point chase last week at Hereford, Mo. A court order secured by Joe Alvarez, Boston promoter, has held up all performances of Dick Shikat, conqueror of Danno O'Mahoney. Hearing on the petition will be held by a Columbus, O., judge Thursday. Al Haft has booked a world titular match between Shikat and Everett Marshall at Denver, May 22. . . . California boxing commission has reinstated Phil Brubaker, Pacific coast heavyweight. He was suspended after admitting his hands had been "doctored" before each of three fights. Use of drugs or alcoholics by boxers before or during fights is prohibited by California rules.

Little Damage Done In Forests Of State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Despite the instensity of the past winter, a survey by the Department of Forrests and Waters revealed little damage was done to forest plantations in the state's forests.

The absence of high winds and the dryness of the snow, it was reported, accounted for the small amount of destruction caused by the heavy recurrent storms during the winter. Areas in Southern counties were only slightly damaged while Northern counties suffered little or no damage.

CROW CONTROL TIME

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG—May is an excellent time to control the crow, and sportsmen's associations should plan active campaigns to remove these birds in sections where they are too plentiful, the game commission says. Crows are a serious menace to game and song birds during the nesting season, and for that reason ought to be hunted more assiduously than at any other time. Young crows in the nest demand a lot of food, and valuable wild life suffers greatly during that period.

Pneumonia Fatal To Woman Heroine In Flooded Area

(International News Service)

TYRONE, Pa., April 21.—A martyr to the raging flood waters which crippled this city March 17 and 18, Miss Katherine M. Fitzgerald, 35, was to be buried here today.

Miss Fitzgerald was one of a number of telephone operators who remained on duty continuously during the 72-hour crisis. Unable to leave the telephone building for three days, during which she and co-workers labored night and day handling thousands of emergency calls, Miss Fitzgerald contracted pneumonia, resulting in her death Saturday.

Senator Barkley Will Be Speaker

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 21.—While Republican arrangement committee members met in Cleveland today to pick a keynote speaker for their June convention, it was learned here that the Democratic temporary chairman and keynote speaker for the convention will be Senator Alban W. Barkley of Kentucky.

The permanent chairman at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia will be the senate Democratic leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas.

No wonder men long prevented education of women. The more they learn, the harder it is to find a man worth having.

Bulls In Market Heartened By Ability Of Stocks To Stave Off Resistance

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, April 21.—The stock market recovered briskly today as bulls were heartened by the ability of stocks to hold above resistance levels, and shorts rushed to cover.

Gains in the general list ran from fractions to more than 2 points. Steels, motors and rails holding prominent places in the recovery. The ticker was pressed to keep up with orders in initial dealings.

Chrysler rose a point before meeting resistance. General Motors and several of the lower-priced issues advanced fractionally.

In steels, Bethlehem, Republic and U. S. Steel were moderately improved.

Forenoon dealings were featured by an 11-point slump in Checker Cab which fell to 58.

Farm equipment were active on the upside, International Harvester spurting 2 points and J. I. Case doing nearly as well.

Short covering in the carrier department carried Southern Pacific up more than a point, while N. Y. Central and Union Pacific scored slightly lesser gains.

Chemicals, building shares and coppers also were well above last night's final quotations.

Bonds moved irregularly higher. Grains and cotton were improved.

(International News Service)

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., April 21. Charged with breaking into a drug store and robbing it of $359, three youths were to appear for hearing in police court here today following their capture in Erie and Pittsburgh.

All were said by police to have confessed. Ronald Dewar, 19, was arrested in Erie; Gene Duer, 18, and Woodward Bell, 19, in Pittsburgh.

The first symptom is wondering why anybody kicks about not having a job.

The Fords Dance a Quadrille

Henry Ford and Mrs. Ford are shown at Washington and Jefferson College, Washington, Pa., where they attended the school's second annual quadrille.

"Get a Horse!" Henry Advises

Dr. Ralph C. Hutchinson, president of Washington and Jefferson College, was motoring with Mr. Ford in the automobile magnate's luxurious limousine. As they neared the campus two young Washingtonians, perspiring over an old Model T, vintage of 1915, blocked the road. The Ford limousine slowed in passing the battered old wreck, sans fenders and top, the upholstery tattered and torn. Ford—and Dr. Hutchison is authority for this story—looked at the young men struggling with the crank. As the limousine passed alongside, the aged manufacturer suddenly lowered his window, stuck his head out and yelled: "Get a horse!"

Oooh, Mr. Roosevelt, Look What John Wrote!

John Henry to John Nance

My Dear John: How long are you going to tolerate that apostasy of the Roosevelt administration to the cardinal principles of the Democratic party and its notorious contempt for the plain terms of the Constitution?

Your friend, John Henry Kirby

John Nance to John Henry

Dear John Henry: Your favor just called to my attention. You can't do everything you want to, and I can't do half what I would like to do. You don't control everybody you would like to, and I am in a similar fix. I think that answers your question.

Sincerely, Jno. N. Garner.

Benefits Of Hospital Prepaid Plan Shown

Will the Jameson "prepaid hospital care" plan save me any money asks Mr. Average Citizen after scanning the articles that have appeared in The News during the past week? He has a right to know and further than that has a right to know just wherein the savings will be effected.

Two things that are ordinarily common, which strike quickly and which need immediate hospitalization are pneumonia and appendicitis. Both of them require the most expert care, both of them are dangerous and because of the treatment required both are usually expensive.

The ordinary cost of hospitalization for pneumonia, exclusive of physicians' fees is $110.50. This is arrived at through the following costs: 17 days bed and general care, $59.50. Four days in an oxygen tent, $48 and laboratory fee for the case $3.

Appendicitis is not quite as expensive a matter but the ordinary hospital fees for apendicitis amount to $58. They are arrived at through the following, 10 days bed and general care, $35; operating room, $10; anesthetic, $10; laboratory, $3.

By belonging to a group participating in the "prepaid hospital care plan" Mr. Average Citizen pays for his pneumonia or his appendicitis hospitalization for $6 or $9 per year, depending upon the class he is in.

If he wishes to guarantee himself treatment in a private ward, he pays $6 per year. If he contracts pneumonia he gets service that would cost a person not in a group, $110.50. If his ailment be appendicitis he gets treatment that would ordinarily cost him $58.

There is no joker in the plan, no concealed restrictions that would cost him more money. All Mr. Average Citizen has to do is join a group. What group he joins with is entirely up to him. With four or more of his companions in the office, the store, the mill, the shop, the lodge or the Sunday school class he joins a prepaid hospital care group. The group members decide among themselves who shall represent them as agent or treasurer. Each month or each quarter or each year Mr. Average Citizen pays his dues into the treasurer who is turn pays them over to the hospital. For private ward care the fee is $6 per year, for private room care the fee is $9 per year.

Once the contract with the hospital is signed Mr. Average Citizen is eligible for treatment save for certain reasonable exemptions. In the case of appendicitis, he must have been a member three days before he is eligible and likewise in pneumonia.

If a week after he joins, Mr. Average Citizen is stricken with pneumonia, appendicitis or other ills of the human flesh, he goes to the Jameson Memorial hospital knowing that his bill is already cared for.

In the case of pneumonia it would take a member 18 years of payment at $6 to make up the total. In the case of appendicitis it would take nine years of due paying to make it up. And so on through the other many diseases or accidents which lead to hospitalization.

The plan is simple, beautifully simple. You pay $6 or $9 per year and your hospital bill is paid up to 35 days as needed. And if you are discharged before your thirty five days are used up, you have a credit due you which you hope you wont need but is there if you do.

Walnut Trees Are Fast Disappearing

Less Black Walnut In State Than Any Other Important Timber Tree

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 21.—The original supply of Black Walnut trees in Pennsylvania forests is greatly reduced, a statewide survey by the department of forests and waters revealed.

The study found there is less black walnut in commonwealth now than any other commercially important timber tree. It was pointed out black walnut is the highest priced wood now being cut from the forests of Pennsylvania.

Although the survey revealed walnut still ocurrs locally throughout the state, it pointed out the tree is rare in the northern sections. The best plantations, the study disclosed, are located in the fertile agricultural valleys of the southwest, eastern and central sectors of the state.

Walnut is heavier and harder than mahogany and stronger than white oak, officials said in explaining its value. It is straight-grained, easy to work and seldom warps or checks after seasoning. About 90 per cent of all the walnut produced is used in the manufacture of furniture, fixtures and cabinets, fire arms, musical instruments and planing mill products.
